MARLON BRANDO
... he was superb

PHIL LEE SAYS

Marlon Brando, "Waterfront" Oscar Bets

By PHIL LEE
Times Movie Critic

This is the hottest "Oscar" race in five years. Almost any of the nominees can win. And worst of it all they are all favorites of the Times "Two for the Show" column. With one or two exceptions we don't care who or what wins.

We like Marlon Brando to win the best actor award. This very talented young man won his nomination for his superb acting in "On the Waterfront." But his work over the past four years has been of such high calibre that this is the fourth time his name has appeared on the lists. The law of percentages says he should win. Others named are Bing ("The Country Girl"), Crosby, Humphrey ("The Caine Mutiny"), Bogart, James ("A Star is Born"), Mason, William ("Country Girl"), Holden and Dan O'Herlihy for his superb "Robinson Crusoe."

DOMINATED PLAY

Of them all we are proudest of our nomination of O'Herlihy for academy award merit. "Two for the Show" was one of the few films in all North America to do so. And it would serve us right if O'Herlihy crossed us up and won the "Oscar." Any man who can completely dominate play for better than an hour with a supporting cast of a dog, a goat and a parrot deserves the highest accolade. We would nominate him only we think Brando deserves it more for his all-around excellent work in so many films.

Surely no one can beat Judy Garland. She is the only actress in any play this year who sang, danced, made us weep in drama and laugh in comedy. In "A Star is Born" she was a one-woman cast. She was tremendous. We would give her an Academy Award for one scene alone, the scene where she came home and described to screen-hubby James Mason all the things she had been doing at the studio that day.

It might be an omen that Miss Garland gave birth to a son Tuesday night, two days ahead of schedule. Of course she will be unable to be present for the awards tonight, thereby holding to her reputation as the "hard luck girl" of show business.

Grace Kelly is a fine actress but none of her plays this year has demanded the range from her worthy of an Academy Award.

Married Five Years, Eleven Divorce Suits

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—The odds favored marriage today as Mrs. Garnett Lee Pearson sued her husband for divorce for the 11th time of their five years of marriage.

Only once has she gone through with one of the divorces and then she remarried her husband the same day.

Janice White's Second Try May Have To Be Postponed

By AB KENT

Gale warnings in effect for the West Coast of Vancouver Island and adverse westerly winds in the Strait of Juan de Fuca are expected to cause a second postponement of Janice White's strait swim try slated for 4 a.m. Thursday.

"The forecast is for continued unsettled conditions, looking unfavorable for anyone attempting a strait swim," weatherman Bill Mackie said this morning.

Miss White had planned to set off at 3 a.m., today, in a 12-hour attempt to be the first person to conquer the treacherous reach of water, but cancelled arrangements to await better weather.

She still has favorable tide conditions, both from her jumping-off spot below the ninth tee at Oak Bay Golf Club and from mid-strait on to Port Angeles her goal.

TIDES FAVORABLE
Virtually no change in the tide level from 3.50 a.m., Thursday, to 8.30 is shown in tide tables. By 8.30 the swimmer anticipates being in mid-strait and in position to be swept ahead of the racing ebb tide toward the American shore.

Tables show a six-foot drop in tide level from 8.30 a.m. to 4.12 p.m. The weather system expected to reach this area about the swimmer's starting time will give her a following wind of 15-20 miles an hour for the first half of her effort, then is expected to increase later in the morning.

The stronger wind forecast would be blowing in the swimmer's face from mid-point in the contest, according to the present picture.

Gale force winds were already reported farther up the coast today, the Queen Charlotte group reporting 38 miles an hour gales at 11 a.m.

This morning in this area, winds were clocked at about 12 miles an hour from the south-east. They may increase in velocity, Mr. Mackie said, which could hinder the early part of the swim if they are sustained.

READY TO GO

Janice was reported in fine shape this morning and "ready when the weather is." She got a good night's rest, said her father's private secretary from Toronto Mrs. Marjorie Hanrahan.

"We're just waiting for the weather," Harold B. Elworthy, Island Tug and Barge president said. His firm is providing tug boats and navigator Captain Charles Goodwin for the swim flotilla.

OTTAWA GIVES $100,000 IN OLYMPICS BID

OTTAWA (CP)—The government plans to spend $100,000 to help attract the 1960 Winter Olympics to Canada.

Northern Affairs Minister Lesage told the Commons estimates committee Tuesday he proposes to ask Parliament to vote the money for construction of a new ski jump and other facilities at Mount Norquay at Banff National Park.

The jump would be built to Olympic and International Ski Association standards in the hope that the 1960 games would be at Banff.

Churchill's Proposal Turned Down by Ike

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower politely objected to British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's suggestion that big power discussions begin with a conference of chiefs of state.

Without referring to Churchill by name, Mr. Eisenhower pointed out at his news conference that an eminent source had proposed a top-level meeting without an agenda.

Mr. Eisenhower said there would be many dangers to such a meeting. He said it might look like a social gathering to many people in the world who would be expecting more from such talks than could be delivered.

But Mr. Eisenhower said again that the United States would meet with other major powers on any basis so long as such a meeting would not raise any false hopes.

Mr. Eisenhower thus maintained his basic position of a week ago—that it would be better to hold exploratory talks at a lower level, probably foreign ministers, and then see whether a chiefs of state meeting might follow.

Churchill Tuesday proposed a directly opposite approach. He told Commons that it might be better "to have the wish and will expressed from the heads of government, the heads of broad and simple terms" and then carried out on a lower level.

New Berlin Blockade Imposed by Russians

Supplies Hit as Highways Tolls
On Trucks Hiked From $7.50 to $100

BERLIN (UP)—The East German Communists imposed exorbitant tolls today on the highways supplying Berlin and West Berlin officials said the Reds had imposed a cold economic blockade.

Berlin city officials said the new highway taxes announced by the Communists raised the toll for an average heavy truck from around $7.50 for a round trip to as much as $100.

The tolls become effective April 1, the seventh anniversary of the first Soviet steps leading to the full land blockade of Berlin in 1948.

"This situation makes it completely impossible to operate trucks to supply Berlin on a normal economic basis," a West Berlin spokesman said. "This is a cold economic blockade."

West Berlin Mayor Otto Suhr said the Communist squeeze against this isolated outpost 110 miles behind the iron curtain was part of the "expected Communist reaction to ratification of the Paris pacts" to rearm West Germany.

Joblessness Blamed on U.S. Dumping

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's 8,000-member Fishermen's Union charged today "dumping" of surplus American manufactured goods and farm produce into Canada is worsening the unemployment situation.

The charge was contained in an unemployment resolution endorsed unanimously by delegates to the 11th annual convention in Vancouver of United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.).

The resolution said that "an other important factor" in Canada's jobless picture was the policy of raw materials being shipped out of Canada to be manufactured in the U.S. and returned here as finished products.

The resolution called for immediate civic programs for construction of low interest housing projects, schools, roads and other projects to alleviate unemployment.

Bevan Remains Within Ranks Of Labor Party

Agrees to Observe
Standing Orders

LONDON (UP)—Left-wing Aneurin Bevan won his fight today to stay within the ranks of the British Labor party.

The party's national executive committee decided at a special meeting on his case to accept Bevan's assurances that he would not challenge the party leadership in the future.

He had been charged with rebelling against the moderate leadership of former prime minister Clement Attlee over a decision to support the use of the hydrogen bomb.

Thus, the decision of the national executive means that the fiery, 57-year-old Welshman will be retained within the party's membership.

However, for the moment, he will remain excluded from the ranks of the parliamentary labor group. The party whip was withdrawn from Bevan two weeks ago, leaving him an independent Socialist in action in the House of Commons although still technically a member of the Labor party.

Bevan submitted a written statement to the subcommittee in which he promised to observe the rules and standing orders of the party, and apologized for any remarks he made about Attlee that might have been considered objectionable.

Contract Let For New Jail At Haney

Construction will start immediately on the new B.C. Correctional Institution at Haney, with the award of the contract today to Dawson & Hall Ltd. of Vancouver.

Highways Minister Gagliardi and Attorney-General Bonner jointly announced the letting of the tender, for $2,484,326.

Furnishings and other factors will raise the total cost of the new jail unit to about $3,000,000, Mr. Gagliardi stated.

The Correctional Institution will be constructed about four and one-half miles outside of Haney, in the Fraser Valley.

Construction is expected to take two years.

The jail will house 400 prisoners. Plans have been designed to allow for future expansion to handle another 200 inmates.

It will be a medium-security prison, with the emphasis on rehabilitation. Oakalla Prison Farm will be retained as the province's high-security institution.

The charge was contained in an unemployment resolution endorsed unanimously by delegates to the 11th annual convention in Vancouver of United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.).

The resolution said that "an other important factor" in Canada's jobless picture was the policy of raw materials being shipped out of Canada to be manufactured in the U.S. and returned here as finished products.

EISENHOWER CRITICIZES WAR SCARES

Peace Not Served
By Speculations

By MERRIMAN SMITH
(United Press White House Correspondent)

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today criticized speculation about the prospect of war in the Far East.

He took this position in commenting on estimates by Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, that an attack on the island of Matsu by the Red Chinese might develop about April 15 with a following attack on Quemoy a month or so later.

The chief executive said he does not plan to rebuke Carney. But in answering a number of news conference questions he left no doubt that he challenged Carney's estimate of the situation.

The president made these points:

1. The peace of the world is not being served by speculating too much concerning such things as Red Chinese war potential in the straits of Formosa.

2. He warned against saying or doing anything in this country that would destroy the morale of the Chinese Nationalists.

3. He doubted the possibility of accurately forecasting when and what the Red Chinese will do.

He was asked directly whether he disagreed with the proposition that there might be an attack on Matsu from April 15 onward. He replied that any one making such a prediction must have information not in his possession.

He said, however, that he could not say there would be no Red Chinese attack in April because frankly, he does not know.

Vancouver Chief Asks Ottawa for Drastic Measures

Mainland Dope Racket Ring Called
'Most Highly Organized in Existence'

(CP and BUP Dispatches)

OTTAWA—Vancouver is in the grip of the most highly organized drug ring in existence, and without drastic new penalty measures the combined action of two police forces will not be able to break the ring, Chief of Police Walter Mulligan said today.

Mulligan appealed to a Senate committee on narcotics for the removal of all confirmed drug addicts "from any large centres of population." He suggested that a rehabilitation institution be segregated on an island.

"An addict is dangerous to society for he is the chief source of creating new addicts," Mulligan said.

Senators on the committee, set up under the chairmanship of Senator Thomas Reid (L. British Columbia) to investigate Canada's illicit drug trade, applauded Chief Mulligan's submission as the most comprehensive they have yet heard.

ADDICTS TO TESTIFY AT VANCOUVER

The committee goes to Vancouver for a series of hearings starting April 18. Mulligan said he would arrange an interview with a number of known drug addicts.

"The narcotics situation has been steadily deteriorating in Vancouver," Mulligan told the committee today. Number of addicts was increasing by about 10 a month and peddlers were forming syndicates with "new and ingenious methods" for pushing their products.

City police and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are finding it impossible to check the creeping disease and the resulting major crime, he said. Officials have estimated the crime directly caused by the narcotics traffic at more than $10,000,000 a year.

"We are witnessing in Vancouver today an ever-increasing degree of organized crime," Mulligan said.

Two warring syndicates are striving for control of the illicit trade, he told the committee. Their war has been responsible for one murder, two attempted murders and three cases of aggravated assault in recent months, he said.

MORE DRUG WARFARE FORECAST

"It is the underworld gossip that this warfare is by no means at an end, and other attempts on the lives of members of the rival organizations can be expected," he said.

Mulligan estimated that 60 per cent of the city's major crimes were traceable to drug addicts who resort to stealing and "mugging" to get money for narcotics.

$12,000 a Day Needed for Drugs

On the basis of 1,000 addicts, Mulligan said, this meant $12,000 a day in cash to keep all the Vancouver addicts supplied or a monthly average of $360,000.

"There is only one way for them to obtain this money," the chief said, "and a conservative estimate of the equivalent cost in crime would be $10,000,000."

Mulligan opposed an earlier suggestion to the committee that addicts be registered and provided with drugs at clinics.

He said Canadian addicts use heroin, "which destroys the body physically and mentally more than other drugs."

"It does not seem right to me that the country should provide these people free a drug which has such devastating effects," he said. "This would not cure their criminal tendencies."

The heroin reached the illicit market in Vancouver mainly from Mexico and was shipped through Vancouver to eastern cities, Mulligan said. A small amount reached Vancouver direct from the Orient by ship and some came from the eastern Mediterranean area from Red China by way of Hong Kong.

In eastern Canada, he said, it was brought on the illicit market at prices ranging from

Near-Brawls Fail to Ruffle Princess on Night Club Date

LONDON (UP)—Princess Margaret was an amused and unruffled onlooker at a couple of near-brawls when she went night-clubbing early today.

The incidents took place in the exuberant Stork Room, a popular late spot much patronized by American tourists.

It is not, however, one of the plush spots of Mayfair which usually are visited by the princess.

The princess threw the crowded Stork Room into confusion when she arrived unannounced with playboy Billy

Wallace and six other young men. Headwaiters collided with each other in their excitement. The group drank, danced and chatted from 12.15 to 3.15 a.m. around a table studded with champagne and Scotch bottles and ginger ale.

The princess was wearing a simply-cut elegant dress, and diamonds on wrist, ears and bodice.

The princess laughed happily and never appeared in better humor. She showed no sign of emotional strain such as might have been expected if the reports are true that her romance with Group Capt. Peter Townsend is once again deeply occupying the Royal Family.

A few tables from Margaret, some young socialites were clapping their hands so close to each other's faces that a pushing situation developed. Waiters quickly moved in to prevent a battle.

Meanwhile, two other men began to swing their girl friends by the arms and legs in time to the music, and still another man threatened a companion with a chair.

The princess languidly puffed a cigarette as she watched these incidents.

IN PARLIAMENT

Two Non-Confidence Motions On Unemployment Defeated

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

Two opposition motions of want-of-confidence demanding government action problem have been defeated.

In votes Tuesday night ending a spasmodic eight-day debate which began a month ago, the Commons voted 131 to 71 against a Progressive Conservative motion and 131 to 70 against a CCF motion.

The straight party votes, with the Liberal majority against combined opposition groups, were on the Conservative call for a government program to meet "this emergency" and on the CCF demand for government acceptance of responsibility for all able-bodied unemployed and a long-term program of public investment and economic development.

ASK GOVERNMENT PLANS

The closing day of the debate brought repeated opposition demands that Prime Minister St. Laurent enter the debate with a statement of government plans for action.

Hazen Argue (CCF, Assiniboia) accused Mr. St. Laurent of being on strike and of abdicating leadership by saying nothing.

George Hees (PC, Toronto Broadview) said cabinet ministers "don't give a hoot" about unemployment and charged Mr. St. Laurent with misleading Canadians about the likelihood of the issue being discussed at the April 25 federal-provincial conference here.

Harold E. Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) said the prime minister shows the same aptitude as competitors in the current series of rocking chair marathons—"he says glued to his seat."

Colin Cameron (CCF, Nanaimo) said no cabinet minister has yet offered a sound solution to unemployment because a solution is impossible within the government's economic philosophy of private enterprise.

"The government still is sunk in some of the myths of free enterprise," he said.

Bill on Senate Appointments

Legislation has been introduced in the Senate to compel the government to fill within six months any vacancies occurring in the 102-seat upper chamber.

The move has been proposed by Senator William Euler, 79-year-old Kitchener, Ont., businessman and former federal trade minister, in a bill to amend the British North America Act.

Adoption of the bill by the Senate and the Commons would mean the filling of 21 current Senate vacancies and the appointment of new members six months after the death, retirement or resignation of any senator.

Legal authorities here said Senator Euler's proposed bill would be within the power of Parliament, which can amend the constitution on all matters within federal jurisdiction.

The last Senate appointment was that of Senator Nancy Hodges, former speaker of the British Columbia legislature, in November, 1953. Since then there have been numerous reports that Prime Minister St. Laurent would soon fill at least some vacancies.

Sensor Euler said in an interview outside the Senate that some of the Upper House seats have been vacant five to seven years. This was contrary to public interest and unfair to the Senate.

"FULLY CONSTITUTED"

"I'm not arguing whether or not there should be a Senate at all," he said. "But if a Senate is worth while it should be fully constituted and not be abolished piecemeal by a process of slow attrition."

Present Senate standing: Liberals 74, Progressive Conservatives 7, vacancies 21. Total 102.

Hungry Convicts Quit 65-Hour Mutiny

Haggard 'Diehards' Release Hostages, Hurry to First Meal Since Sunday

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Eight hungry rebel convicts surrendered today after holding two guards and a fellow prisoner as hostages for more than three days at the Nebraska penitentiary.

The three hostages emerged unharmed from the isolated, three-story maximum detention building where the rebels had been holed up since 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

They, and their captors had lived for 65½ hours on a single loaf of bread and a little sugar.

The diehard convicts finally surrendered to the pangs of starvation and the stern demands of Gov. Victor E. Anderson, who took personal command of the prison during the marathon riot and refused to compromise with the rebels.

The rebels' first condition of surrender was a hot meal—right away.

Anderson granted it and the haggard convicts hurried off to eat their first real food since Sunday breakfast.

HARD PUNISHMENT

But the governor's terms were hard: 15 days for each of the convicts in the prison's "hole," 60 days in solitary confinement, and 90 days in segregation.

In return, Anderson promised a "fair and impartial" investigation of the prisoners' list of grievances.

ARMS TALK LEAK

No Violation Just Correction Gromyko Says

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet foreign ministry denied today that Andrei Gromyko had violated a secrecy pledge by revealing the Soviet Union's position at the London five-power disarmament talks.

The foreign ministry press chief, Leonid Ilychev had merely taken advantage of his rights to "correct biased, distorted and apparently inspired versions" of the talks which he said had been appearing in the Western Press.

Today's statement was brought forth by a storm of criticism in the West following publication of an interview with Gromyko, then chief Soviet delegate at the talks, gave to a Russian correspondent in London.

Represented at the talks with Russia are Britain, the United States, France and Canada—the major atomic powers.

Labor Favors Court Action Against BCE

Would Seek Return Of Money Taken Through Fare Boost

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver labor leaders said today they would like to see a Vancouver citizen begin court action to recover extra money paid B.C. Electric Company under higher fares instituted last year and thrown out by the B.C. Appeal Court last month.

City council refused Tuesday to take steps to recover the estimated $500,000 paid by transit riders in additional fare money.

A Vancouver lawyer, who would not permit use of his name, said he believed any Vancouver citizen would be able to sue the company on behalf of himself and all other city transit riders.

Tom Alsbury, president of the T.L.C. Labor Council, and Lloyd Whalen, president of the C.C.L. Labor Council, both said they would be wholeheartedly behind such a citizens' action against the BCE.

The city council's refusal to take action followed a statement by the company that any attempt by the city to recover the money would be "a very vicious procedure."

W. C. Mainwaring, BCE vice-president, said the company paid the city $633,000 in transportation taxes last year, which means a direct reduction in the tax bill of these people who are anxious we should pay this fare money to someone.

Faure Given Power To Reform Taxes

Premier Granted Special Powers by 329-265 Assembly Vote; Poujade Wins Concessions

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly today gave Premier Edgar Faure special powers to work out economic and financial reforms, including revamping France's tax-collection system. The vote was 329 to 265.

The premier obtained the powers, which would permit the government to decree laws without assembly approval, only after important concessions to the parliamentary backers of tax rebel Pierre Poujade.

FRENCH ACTION BRINGS BIG 4 PARLEY NEARER

PARIS (UP)—Premier Edgar Faure's cabinet today approved new diplomatic policies aimed at preparing for a Big Four conference with Russia.

The ministry sanctioned measures designed to establish "the closest possible contact with the Allies" with the view of summoning such a meeting.

The measures were understood to include precise instructions to French ambassadors in London and Washington.

Saigon Repels Pirate Attack

U.S.-Backed Indo-China Premier Wins First Round in Civil Strife

(AP and UP Dispatches)

SAIGON — National troops were concentrated at vital points throughout this South Viet Nam capital today after beating back an attempt by a private army to oust American supported premier Ngo Dinh Diem by force.

Twenty-six persons were reported killed and 112 wounded in the fighting which raged more than four hours early today. None of the nearly 1,000 members of foreign diplomatic military and economic missions here was injured.

Except for the troop concentrations and a few roadblocks, there was little evidence tonight of the battle which broke out shortly after midnight between national units and the private army of the Binh Xuyen society for former river pirates.

Diem won the first round, but the Binh Xuyen forces which control Saigon's police and its underworld were intact and firmly entrenched in the suburbs. The city was tense, expecting further trouble even though the French army (technically neutral) announced a truce had been arranged until Thursday morning.

All three rebellious sects—The Binh Xuyen, the CAO Dai and the Hoa Hao — announced they would begin a complete blockade of the capital tomorrow. Panic was increasing in Saigon, and hoarding began among the 600,000 population.

BLOOD AND FIRE
The sects cabled Emperor Bao Dai demanding that Diem resign. A close associate of Binh Xuyen commander Gen. Bai Vien said "all South Viet Nam will be put to blood and fire" if Bao Dai does not obey.

Saigon's large Communist underground was jubilant, confident that the grave crisis threatening Diem would hand free South Viet Nam over to the Reds in the near future. The fighting in Saigon raged intermittently from midnight until dawn when government troops backed by tanks overran the screaming fanatical riflemen of the Binh Xuyen and drove them back to their stronghold near the Chinese suburb of Cholon.

VANCOUVER TO FIGHT ASSESSMENT INCREASE

VANCOUVER (BUP)—An appeal against a provincial order that all assessments on improvements in the city be increased by 12½ per cent will be launched by the city immediately, it was announced Tuesday night.

Corporation counsel Russel Baker was instructed by the city council to prepare the case and take it before the assessment appeal court.

The city will have to delay the distribution of tax assessment notices because of the dispute.

Not Down the Drain

A FEW MONTHS AGO, BEFORE it faced the crisis of Formosa, the United States Government was planning a large-scale and imaginative program of economic aid to Asia, a kind of sequel (though the problems were different) to the Marshall Plan which saved Europe.

But the Foreign Operations Administration is to be wound up in June, its director, the able Mr. Stassen, has been appointed to a new job in the White House and the next budget is not expected to increase the present scale of foreign aid. American military power in the Pacific apparently will not be backed by anything like the economic weapons against communism that the United States can afford.

Writing of these issues in The New York Times, Barbara Ward, a distinguished English journalist now living in the United States, isolates the political problem of the Eisenhower Government. It is not difficult, she says, to persuade the Congress to vote money for weapons, because they can be seen and seem worth the cost; whereas the results of foreign economic aid cannot be seen, at least not for some time after the money is spent. Hence the widespread legend that all money spent abroad, except for naked military power, is "down the drain."

Miss Ward argues powerfully that such money has not gone down the drain at all, but has proved on the whole the best possible investment. Without the Marshall Plan, for example, Europe or some vital parts of it undoubtedly would have gone down the drain.

By an unprecedented feat of thrifty derring, the United States saved Europe and restored its economy long before any economist would have thought possible. As a result, the United States has been able to transfer three-quarters of its total foreign aid, military and economic, to Asia, but most of it is spent on weapons.

Anyway, the Marshall Plan proved what economic aid, intelligently applied, can produce in terms of political stability and that business strength which must form the basis of military strength in the long run.

As Miss Ward says, a picture of tanks, guns and bombs bought with public money appeals vividly to the taxpayer. "But a picture, say, of peasants receiving a distribution of improved seed has a look on it of charity and the handout. Little about it conveys the possibility that before the next harvest the whole bunch of peasants might have gone off and become communist guerrillas out of sheer discouragement. Military aid, in short, barely has to argue the case for itself. Economic aid is guilty until proved innocent—and possibly even then."

Miss Ward cites one striking example of economic aid at work. The communists of India, she recalls, established their most successful point of penetration among the Telegu-speaking peoples around Madras in the famine years of 1951-52. They proposed to establish a separate communist state to save themselves from starvation. But when the Indian Government was able to overcome the famine—with a large loan of surplus wheat from the United States—the agitation perished almost overnight and in the recent elections the communists were completely routed.

If that kind of approach to communism could be multiplied in other places, Miss Ward says, the whole climate of Asia could be gradually changed. This, of course, is the premise behind the Commonwealth's Colombo Plan, now spending three quarters of a billion dollars a year in Asia, in partnership with Asiatic governments. So far, however, the Commonwealth's efforts and those of the United States have been inadequate and, more disturbing, have encountered increasing scepticism from the public, especially in the United States.

But Miss Ward, having traveled through most of the nation, believes that the generous American people, once told the truth about these things, will gladly invest their money in friendly lands abroad. The American politicians, she thinks, are being far too timid in planning next year's foreign aid budget. The same may be said of this particular budget item in Canada.

Assuredly the western world needs military strength to deter the aggressor but much more than that—the chance of a tolerable life—is needed to defeat the false but attractive claims of communism among desperate and ignorant peoples, the largest part of humanity.

If Fire Hit the Watershed . . .

MAYOR HARRISON HAS voiced strong objection to any logging road cut through a section of the City watershed. His reasons are explicit.

Such roads, he says, would encourage picnickers and members of the public to invade the watershed which is best left free of intrusion. People, he believes, would increase the fire hazard and possibly lead to contamination of the water supply. Beyond that, he argues that fine trees would have to be cut down in the construction of the road.

Those trees furnish valuable cover for the ground, of course, though as scenery they have limited value when few, if any, people see them.

Interests wishing the road contend that it is too far away from the lake to imperil the water supply and that it would be used only to transport logs. Gates would close it to the public.

The merits of the two arguments have yet to be decided, but the suggestion of a road on the watershed does raise again a vital point for water-board consideration.

For reasons similar to those advanced by the mayor against the logging road, the board has opposed the cutting of fire trails into heavy timber on the watershed. As a result there is no access to important stands. If fire struck—and only a favorable wind held flames from watershed timber two or three years ago—it would be impossible to get men and fire-fighting equipment to the scene quickly enough to cope with an outbreak.

Foresters have urged the construction of fire trails wide enough to handle mechanical equipment. They have pointed out, too, that such trails could be closed to the public by gates.

The existence of trails probably would encourage some people to hike over the ground who do not frequent that territory at present. But, rough as the terrain may be, hunters still penetrate it in small numbers. They can start fires as easily as anyone else.

Perhaps while the commercial logging road is under consideration, the question of fire trails might be revived again. They would not provide full protection against a forest fire on the watershed, but in the opinion of competent foresters, they would furnish a safeguard which the timber there now lacks.

Mr. Kohaly Won't Be Kidnapped

ROBERT KOHALY, THE LONE Conservative member of Saskatchewan's Legislature, apparently has toyed with the proposal to make him Social Credit leader of his province and has laid the idea aside.

There is a political vacuum in Saskatchewan, he says—and he ought to know, having rattled around in it—but Social Credit is not the substance to fill it.

The affair Kohaly might pass as an incident of local interest and nothing more, but for the intrusion into the picture of mysterious strangers. The Social Credit stalwarts of Saskatchewan, those who have toiled, and toiled in vain, did not ask the Conservative to lead them. They seem a little piqued that the suggestion was raised by unnamed outside parties—some newspapers seek to identify B.C.'s Premier Bennett as the embezzler.

And why should this suggestion be raised? Conceivably because it fits into the national Social Credit scheme indicated by Mr. Bennett. His own career defines the technique. A Conservative until he failed in his leadership bid, he has proceeded with some provincial success to kidnap or absorb large chunks of the B.C. Conservative Party of recent memory.

So, in Saskatchewan, mysterious strangers approach Mr. Kohaly—reaching far down in the barrel in the process—perhaps in an effort to encourage that osmosis by which Conservatives seep through the surface membrane of political thought to become one with another political body.

They have failed with Mr. Kohaly, but no doubt the process will be tried again. And while at present the devisers of the scheme are unknown, Mr. Bennett may be able to remove their anonymity on his return from Honolulu.

Looks Like a Good Time for a Challenge

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

OVER there on the mainland, where we have our provincial university, a writer was getting off some remarks about the advantages of going to college. He had never been there himself, and felt somehow imperfect as a result. He said that universities do have some evils, such as the clubs known as fraternities, but on the whole they do a chap a world of good. Anyone, or almost anyone, is the poorer for not having been to college. I wonder. It is a very large question. This is no more the place to settle it than I am the man to settle it. But I attended a couple of universities, and closely studied a third. I have watched dozens of university and non-university types with some inkling of what to look for.

I WAS brought up in a university family. My father studied in three universities and taught in two. And four times a year I write a little article (not in The Times) making fun of certain aspects of Canadian universities; the articles may be no good, but at least they force me to consider the subject every three months. So perhaps I can lose a random shaft or two at this block who feels he has gyped himself. And who apparently feels a university should be one enormous bed of Procrustes, whitening down the men who are too big for it and stretching out the ones who are too small for it, so that it suits everyone. An exact fit.

IT all depends on who you are and what you expect and what the university is and how it reacts on you. The selfsame course will improve one man and ruin another . . . just as books can do it at home. It can make one man thoughtful and another smart-alecky and a third confused. Even the social life (if that is the word for it) of a university can help one man to be less shy or to understand men and women better, while making another shallow or lazy or both.

It can make one man better at his future job, and make another man much worse . . . for example, it can make the second man incapable of settling down, of learning anything, of being patient. In one man it can increase the good side of his individualism and suppress the bad side, but in another it can work just the other way, killing any good individualism he had while bringing out his cheaper selfishness. It may give him an intelligent interest in politics, or it may turn him into a cocksure little planner who will be very troublesome at Ottawa for the next forty years.

AS for being able to make himself and others happier . . . I don't know. There again it depends on what he was like before he went to college, and what college was like. A truly educated man is surely able to entertain himself. But not every college graduate is truly educated (to put it politely). Nor is every non-college man incapable of entertaining himself. And to what extent are happiness and self-entertainment the same thing? And to what extent can you be happy and wise at the same time? And to what extent does learning lead to wisdom? And is every college man apt to acquire learning.

IT IS true that many a college man manages to lose a few prejudices. But does he acquire others? In my opinion he does. Are these apt to be milder than the ones he lost? I don't know. Again, it all depends. Please remember that I'm not saying college never did anyone any good. I am suggesting a few arguments for a much easier case: I'm suggesting, merely, that it may not be quite true to assume that college would benefit the entire human race. Or half the race. Or even a tenth of the race.

LIBERTY, EQUALITY AND FRATERNITIES

AS for fraternities being an evil of university life . . . I'd not like to be too positive about that. Let me speak from my own experience in a fraternity. I was a painfully shy little freshman, and probably too young, with my particular temperament, to be at college at all. I didn't make friends easily. Through my fraternity I made several lasting friendships I would not otherwise have made. I was forced to get along with chaps I would not otherwise have tolerated. And they were forced to get along with me, too, which not only did them good but did me good at the same time, for I didn't have to keep wondering which of us was going to offend the other.

In Canada---The Police Broke in and Seized the Bibles

By GRANT DEXTER in The Winnipeg Free Press

ESYMIER CHAPUT, minister, one of Jehovah's Witnesses, lives at Chapeau, Quebec, on the Quebec side of the Ottawa River, about opposite Pembroke, Ont., some 100 miles west of Ottawa.

Had anyone told Mr. Chaput on the morning of Sept. 4, 1949, that in the spring of 1955 the case of Chaput versus Romain, Young and Chartrand (three members of the Quebec provincial police) would appear on the docket of the Supreme Court of Canada, he would not have believed it. If, further, he had been told that Chaput versus these three constables would become a great constitutional case involving freedoms infinitely precious to all Canadian citizens, his disbelief would have been heightened.

Yet all this has happened. Chaput versus Romain, Young and Chartrand, will come to trial in the Supreme Court a few weeks hence on appeal from the Appeal Court of Quebec. As the facts in the case make plain, the Chaput case already has become a great constitutional case, equal in importance to the Alberta Press Act case of 1937 and the Saumur case of 1953.

It is a great constitutional case because it involves not only the right of Pastor Chaput but of every Canadian citizen to freedom of worship, freedom of assembly, freedom of speech and freedom of person from interference by the police when no unlawful act has been or is being committed.

The facts as to what happened at Chapeau, Quebec, on the afternoon of Sept. 4, 1949, are not in dispute. All the evidence is in, and the argument in the Supreme Court will concern only the judgment which should flow therefrom. There were 38 persons present in the house at Chapeau on the afternoon of Sept. 4, 1949. The service began at 2 o'clock. At 2:30 when the three Quebec policemen arrived, a visiting clergyman, Mr. Gotthold of Ottawa, had begun the sermon. Indeed, as the three constables entered the room in which the service was being held, Mr. Gotthold was reading from the Bible. The policemen testified that there had been and was no disturbance or disorder of any kind.

After listening to the sermon for a few minutes, the policemen interrupted to announce that they had come to "break up" the service. Mr. Gotthold asked if he was under arrest. The constables said "No." Thereupon he said that he would continue to preach until forcibly compelled to stop.

CONFISCATED COLLECTION

The constables broke up the meeting by collecting and taking away all the printed material in the room—hymn books and pamphlets. They confiscated the collection book containing the offerings of the congregation. Then they made the congregation leave the house.

All this time, Mr. Gotthold continued to preach. The policemen silenced him by taking the Bible out of his hand forcibly but without injuring him in any way, and then compelling him to walk—a constable on either side—out of the house to the police car. The police then drove him to the ferry which crosses the Ottawa River to Pembroke, Ont., and put him on board.

The collection, the Bibles, hymn books, and pamphlets have never been returned. The present case arose not by prosecution of Mr. Chaput. The Quebec police, having broken up the service, took

YOUR PRICELESS HERITAGE

There is no secrecy at city hall regarding a mere 8,000 citizens who do not belong to our property-owning democracy. Nor do the 8,000 live rent free. Nor do they vote unless they pay road or poll tax. Nor do they vote even when they pay unless they "register," cap in hand as befits those who have no caste. Nor do 8,000 protest against this lousy "law."

Fourteenth century England decided armed rebellion was the only real answer. Eventually education and civilization did discard this studied insult to those who pay taxes only via rent. In 1955 those who persist in upholding a poll and road tax must be removed from all public office by the united votes of "the untouchables," 8,000 strong.

Even the deaf, blind Secreds can understand 8,000 votes and so can even Mayor Harrison.

TOSSED TO THE LIONS?

According to the news reports the B.C. Government has pledged $20,000 from the public tax receipts toward financing the Grey Cup football game in Vancouver.

Just how ridiculous can they get?

No one minded the government contributing a healthy sum to staging the Empire games last year. We were proud to have the games in B.C. Nor would we argue with the grant to the Pentecost '55 to go to Europe for the hockey championships.

But when it comes to handing out our hard earned tax money to promote a professional sport—the highest paid in Canada—which is going to charge $7.50 tops anyway, the thing has gone beyond reason.

At the present time committees of hard-working sportsman are trying to raise funds to send the Canadian team to the Olympics in 1956. If the "pay-as-you-go" government has so much money to throw around on sport let them give it to the Olympic committee, certainly not to a high-paid commercial sports racket.

"DEEPLY CONCERNED."

FESTIVAL SUPPORT

If the organizers of the music festival are really concerned about the lack of popular support may I suggest that they endeavor to make the festival popular with the man in the street.

A general appreciation of "classical" music will not be cultivated by giving people a prelude and chorale for breakfast, a sacred oratorio for lunch and 32 variations in C minor for dinner via the CBC, nor by a continual blare of hit tunes over the juke box station.

May I suggest a series of concerts at which the more melodious compositions could be presented without lowering the technical standard? There are hundreds of lesser known yet pleasing classics not often heard.

A young girl in one of the festival classes broke down in tears after a reading test only to learn afterwards that she had been awarded top marks. The piece, to her, was unmeaningful and meaningless. This incident I think illustrates the problem perfectly.

Finally, when a young interested supporter pointed out his view to a committee member he was abruptly reminded that he must "put his complaint in writing to the committee—everything must be in writing."

What sort of encouragement is this?

LAST WORD

"As the Bible tells us" seems to be the last word with "believers" irrespective of how irrational their particular superstition may be.

One of your readers affirms a "natural law" that demands for every effect an adequate cause. Then he proceeds to accept the "theory" of a Supreme Being, uncreated and eternal while, at the same time, denying the possibility of a universe uncreated and eternal.

If his argument is to rest on the "natural law" then might we not with logic ask: Who created the Creator? On the other hand, if he rests on the "theory" then we may well ask: Why can't a universe be uncreated and eternal, if some Supreme Being can so be?

CANDID.

A-BOMBS OR DIVINITY

I have sent you several letters during these last few months that weren't published, no doubt because they contained too much truth about our Federal Government and also its silly appeasement theory.

Such a childish attitude for a newspaper to take shows a great lack of common sense because the public wants to know the truth even though it hurts.

In my last letter I said people like Dorothy Thompson do more harm with their appeasement theory than Russian propaganda, because appeasement had been tried time and again and had never accomplished anything of value, but instead had made it possible for Communism to spread all over the world.

At the present time there are millions of prisoners behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains, including many Americans and other nationalities who fought in Korea to stem the tide of Communism. Owing to silly UN restrictions, this attempt ended in a stalemate.

Now these men are prisoners and are probably undergoing indescribable persecution, while cowardly specimens of humanity like Eden, Attlee, Nehru, Pearson, Coldwell, Thompson and thousands of others shiver in their boots and talk about appeasing these Communist monsters.

Personally I believe that nothing less than atom bombs or Divine intervention will ever bring people to their senses, because the masses of the people today are spiritually dead and indifferent to the things that make life worth living.

ful purposes; freedom to speak our minds; freedom of person from arbitrary interference by the state?

Because of these great issues, Mr. Chaput's case is assuming ever greater significance as the time of the trial nears. Ordinarily, small cases are heard by a quorum of the court, five judges. In great constitutional cases, however, the full court of nine judges sits. It will be significant to see how the court musters when the Chaput case is called.

HEARING SOON

The case has been set down high on the list for the session that begins on April 26. From modest beginnings it is becoming a conflict between governments. Notice of the trial has been served upon the federal government and all of the provincial governments.

There are reports that the Quebec government will enter the case, claiming exclusive provincial jurisdiction over the freedoms that are involved.

There is no inkling of what the federal government will do. If the St. Laurent government followed the precedent of the King government in the Alberta Press Act case, it would intervene to assert exclusive federal jurisdiction over these freedoms. The argument, as in the Alberta case, would be that safeguarding these basic rights of Canadian citizens is the responsibility of the federal government; that it was never contemplated by the B.N.A. Act that there should be as many different kinds of Canadian citizens as there are provinces.

The Chaput case is but the first of several involving fundamental freedoms that are soon to come before the Supreme Court.

UPHOLDS FAMILY TRADITION

City Artist's Work to Appear In London Illustrated News

By PETE LOUDON
Victoria artist Edward "Ted" Goodall will be upholding a family tradition when a display of his sketches appears next month in the London Illustrated News.

When the camera was in its infancy and English periodicals were hungry for art to match the blazing glory of dispatches from Crimea, Ted's grandfather was making battlefield sketches for that same Illustrated News.

Ted's quest for subjects followed gentler paths—to hear him tell it. He professes to be a subdued Victorian, husband and father, cloistered in his bright little studio at 1550 Wilnot Place, where sparrows peek from branches which brush his window, and watch his deft pencil at work.

RELUCTANT

His 45 years, however, are crammed with more color than his paint box. But you have to twist his arm.

Born in Somerset, England, he completed his schooling and his total art training by the age of 17. Though he'd been scratching out drawings for five years, he could see better hopes of eating steadily by turning to other fields.

Accordingly he went to India and engineered the machinery at a tea plantation.

It took a stampede of elephants to shake him out of that short career. He'd gone back to the jungles of Assam to sketch the bungalow of the tea estate manager. During the night the elephants rumbled from the darkness, bore down on the house and at the last moment were diverted by a tempting rice field—which was more than excellent for stomping.

POLO PONY

Shortly after, Ted left for China and Japan, financing his trip with free-lance drawings. But a polo pony ate up the profits so Ted decided he'd try Canada where horses are self sufficient most of the year.

Before sinking roots in Vic-

toria and marrying a local girl Ted scrambled through the depression horse-wrangling and eating beans and prairie dust on Alberta road gangs.

He sold stocks and bonds in Victoria, drawing when he could. He did a series of CPR ships for that company—he loves ships, his studio looks like a sailor's rest home.

His market expanded in 1946, he landed a job doing the pulp mill at Powell River for the company, then branched into post cards. He is proudest of the work he does for Court's Greeting Cards Company and a series of old English inns he did for the Devonshire Hotel in Vancouver.

Working full-time at his art, he found his projects taking him further afield. He sketched Banff and Lake Louise scenes while the temperature was 15 below.

WIDE RECOGNITION

Marine calendars which he did for Canadian Stevedoring brought him recognition in the many foreign ports they went to.

"I'm quite sure that if it weren't for them I wouldn't have got this offer," he says in reference to three recent commissions from Illustrated News.

The first was a series of drawings of the big tunnel at Kitimat and the aluminum plant. Here his experience with Canadian Alpine Club stood him in good stead. Many of his drawings he did while perched like a seagull atop a 120-foot crane.

His other two London commissions are still top secret, but they will take him to Eastern Canada and the Rockies.

Most of his projects are pencil works, but Ted does some watercolors and pastels of children.

His sketches are precise as photographs but achieve better balance than the legs. "You can close your eyes and move things around," he laughs.

'Wheatleg' Grain Now Contraband

PEMBINA, N.D. (CP)—Customs officials at this border town say they are facing the greatest wave of smuggling from Canada since American prohibition ended in 1933.

Selkirk wheat, not liquor, now is the contraband flowing southward across the border, Phil Hoghaugh, United States customs collector, said Tuesday.

To date, some 1,000 bushels of the famed rust-resistant wheat variety have been seized by border patrols and handed over to customs authorities. Mr. Hoghaugh said he expected the illegal traffic to continue until the ban on Selkirk exports from Canada is lifted.

Some 600 bushels, sold by auction under customs authority last week, brought an average price of $12.78 a bushel from American buyers. This sale alone poured $7,668 into American treasury coffers.

Faulty Jump Found Responsible For City Paratrooper's Death

OTTAWA (CP)—An army board of inquiry has determined that a paratrooper was killed last month near Calgary because he made a faulty exit from the jump plane, it was learned Tuesday.

By coincidence, an army officer on the ground happened to be taking pictures of the parachute drop for technical purposes and snapped two shots of Pte. Donald Mason, 24, of Victoria and Calgary as he fell to his death February 17. The army has declined to make the photographs public.

The board of inquiry found that Mason, a trained para-trooper, with the 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, jumped from the RCAF C-119 Flying Packet plane's slipstream and rolled up in his parachute. When he hit the ground eight seconds later, his hands were still clawing at the cords of the chute.

The board found that Mason's hands were free during his fall but the seal of his emergency chute was not broken. Nothing was found wrong with the main chute.

Park as Site For Aquarium Ruled Out

A Chamber of Commerce sub-committee investigating the idea of establishing an aquarium here, says Beacon Hill Park would make the best possible site if it were not for financial considerations.

Because of terms stipulated by Sir James Douglas, the deed of trust, under which the city holds the park, prevents any charge being levied for attractions there.

In order to be self-supporting, however, an aquarium built here will have to charge admissions.

The chamber's sub-committee is continuing its studies and written 20 aquariums in the United States to obtain information about their operation. In the meantime, the committee has recommended the Victoria Aquarium Society incorporate so that it may launch a fund-raising drive.

Cost of an aquarium has been estimated by the Aquarium Society at $60,000.

The rally was sponsored by a private organization.

Logger Claims Blackmail Try By Mill Owner

An independent Squamish logging operator testified Tuesday before the Sloan Royal Commission a Vancouver mill operator tried to blackmail him by endeavoring to make a deal on a Crown-timber sale.

MALENKOV JUST ANOTHER INSPECTOR

MOSCOW (UP)—Former premier Malenkov is touring provincial electric power stations, it was reported today. Informed sources said Malenkov, who has failed to make a public appearance in Moscow for a week, is inspecting stations in the Ural Mountain district. Other top Soviet leaders also are absent from the capital "making personal contacts with producers." Malenkov, who resigned as premier with a confession of "guilt" and inexperience in administration, is now electric power stations minister.

UAW Sparks Unionization Campaign Fund

CLEVELAND (AP)—The CIO auto workers union has offered to put up a dollar for each of its 1,500,000 members to finance with other unions a drive to organize millions of non-union workers.

The proposal is in a resolution the 3,000-UAW delegates are expected to adopt at their annual convention here. It says that when the proposed AFL-CIO merger is accomplished every union should put up a dollar for every present member into a pooled fund to organize new members.

AFL president George Meany, warmly received Tuesday in his first address to a CIO union convention, said a revived organizing drive is definitely planned when the AFL-CIO merger is completed later this year. Meany has been designated to head the combined AFL-CIO organization. Meany said fears have been expressed that labor would have too much power under the AFL-CIO merger and that it would be exercised politically. He said there certainly will be an increased exercise of union political power "not with the idea of running the country but of continuing the forward march of labor."

No 'Showboat' This Year in Inner Harbor

There'll be no "Showboat" in the inner harbor this summer.

The tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored last year's series of concerts afloat, and which suffered a financial loss as a result, decided at a meeting Tuesday to forego any idea of a repeat series this year.

The group will lend its support, however, to the Victoria Musicians' Union, Local 247, which is endeavoring to persuade City Council to schedule a series of eight Sunday afternoon band concerts in Beacon Hill Park during the summer. In recent years, the city has been reluctant to pay for concerts in the park. What concerts have been arranged have resulted from the union offering to play one free concert for every one paid for.

The union has written City Council offering to play eight concerts this year for $2,000.

Gerald Dent, president of the Squamish Towing and Contracting Co. Ltd., offered to name the mill owner, but he was not requested to do so.

Mr. Dent said the deal concerned a timber sale which was up for auction in his firm's operating area on the Squamish River.

"I had this man stop me in the corridor of the Marine Building. He asked me to sign a document giving him a percentage of the timber, otherwise he would go in and bid," he testified.

"This is nothing less than blackmail—it is a terrible state of affairs," he said.

He said "apparently it was just a bluff" because he heard no more from the man.

Mr. Dent also criticized the forest service's system of letting timber sales. He pointed to an example on a map of his own area, and a timber sale through which Squamish Towing built a $30,000 road.

"We took the sale, and can only pray we will get the timber behind it," said Mr. Dent. "But anyone can outbid us and get the use of the road for nothing."

"When the timber in any given area has to come out on one road, then only one sale should be held for the entire block of timber," he said.

KEY ROAD

Mr. Dent said in many cases "one road is the key to the whole area."

Earlier, the Squamish operator clashed with deputy forest minister Dr. C. D. Orchard on the amount of timber available to Squamish Towing Co. if a forest management license is approved for Empire Mills Ltd. Dr. Orchard has stated there would be 200,000,000 to 220,000,000 feet of timber left for Squamish Towing.

"There is not more than 40,000,000 feet," said Mr. Dent.

He said the forest service gained its evidence on figures supplied by Empire Mills, while his estimate came from detailed ground study made by himself and other members of his firm.

NO SPECIFIC SURVEY

Dr. Orchard said the figure came from forest service information derived during its 34 years of operation. He said "no specific survey was made" for the purposes of the Empire Mills' application.

"To the best of my knowledge, this forest management license application was dealt with on figures supplied by the applicant," said Mr. Dent. He said that if the Empire Mills' application is given final approval by the provincial cabinet, "it is apparent that our company has a future existence of only three years."

Floating Freezers Protested

VANCOUVER (CP)—The use of freezer processing equipment aboard fishpackers was attacked here Tuesday by the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (Ind.).

The 8,000-member west-coast union unanimously endorsed a resolution declaring that the introduction of freezer ships into the British Columbia fishing industry "could lead to a severe drop in the number of shore-workers employed."

Delegates attending the union's 11th annual convention were told that the proposed use of freezer equipment "emanates from sources in the United States whose interest in the matter is based on obtaining Canadian fish for processing in the U.S."

The resolution urged the B.C. government not to take any action in the matter without first meeting with "all organizations and companies directly connected" with the industry.

BURIED ALIVE

NEW YORK (AP)—Two 11-year-old boys were buried alive Tuesday when a tunnel they had made in a Staten Island hillside collapsed on them. The boys, Dan Myers and John Perocco, were dug out of the hillside within minutes, but efforts to revive them failed.

COSTLY DEVICE to fight polio is shown by Jubilee Hospital lab worker Miss Susan Griffin to Police Sergeant Roy Woolsey and Fireman William Jackson.

Police, Firemen Give Hospital Wonder Machine to Fight Polio

By PETE LOUDON

Another valuable weapon in the fight against polio and other tissue-wasting diseases was presented to Royal Jubilee Hospital last week—an electro-spectrophotometer.

The big name stands for a machine which produces an analysis of human blood in the form of rainbow-hued bands of color. A doctor can tell from it what elements are out of balance in the patient's system—a scientific diagnosis which means the healing process can be speeded up.

Donors are city police and firemen who earned close to $3,000 to defeat polio and almost $500 to promote minor hockey, during their annual Family Night ice-jamboree at Memorial Arena last month.

The polio treatment centre at Jubilee also received two folding wheel chairs and a Stryker frame, which is a device for turning paralyzed patients painlessly and easily.

The police and firemen said there is $400 left over for the hospital to spend as needed.

The electro-spectrophotometer has been introduced to the field of crime detection in some of the larger United States cities. A flake of paint from a hit-and-run car can lead to apprehension of the car.

The paint, like the blood, is burned in an arc-light in front of a slit in the camera of the machine. A ray of light penetrates the slit and reaches a glass prism which breaks the light into a pattern of colored lines. The trained eye knows what the color represents.

The police laboratory technician can check factories and learn the model, make year and part of the serial number of the car.

The medical labman can tell what tonics your blood needs to get you back to health.

Maybe one day, hospital workers will hold a benefit game for police and firemen and buy them an electro-spectrophotometer which will aid in catching hold-up men and arsonists.

Sask. Liberal Rift Blamed On Gardiner

Resigned Chief Stands by Charge

SASKATON (CP)—Dr. R. E. Partridge of Prince Albert, past president of the Saskatchewan Liberal Association, said Tuesday in a telephone interview that he stands "unreservedly" by statements contained in a prepared statement he issued last Thursday.

In the statement he alleged "renewed interference" by Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal agriculture minister, in Saskatchewan Liberal affairs.

Dr. Partridge's statement was issued while he was absent from Prince Albert.

Next day R. J. McAter of Prince Albert, a member of the provincial Liberal executive, said he doubted the authenticity of the statement attributed to Dr. Partridge.

Dr. Partridge said Tuesday he prepared the statement two or three days prior to leaving for St. Paul, Minn., and he had authorized its release by telephone to a reporter in Prince Albert. He said he not only stood unreservedly by what he said then "but I could have said a great deal more."

Dr. Partridge said: "I am in this inter-party fight because I believe in liberalism and because, as was admitted by our leader A. H. McDonald on Nov. 26, my sole desire is to foster liberalism and see the defeat of the CCF government."

"I do not intend to stop fighting for what I term the right of Saskatchewan Liberals to control their own affairs without any outside interference."

Bruins Face Ousting

Lose to Canadiens in Overtime Frame

BOSTON, (CP) — The first playoff goal in the career of a Montreal rookie brought his club close to another Stanley Cup final on Tuesday night as Montreal Canadiens twice came from behind to score an overtime 4-3 decision over the rugged Boston Bruins.

The goal by Don Marshall, scored at the expense of veteran Sugar Jim Henry, whose NHL career began when Marshall was nine years old, gave the Canadiens a commanding 3-1 edge in their best-of-seven semifinal in which they will have the advantage of home ice for the next game Thursday night.

Marshall's breakthrough at 3:05 of the sudden-death overtime session was a heart-breaking finale for Henry, who had withstood a fluke goal and a two-stitch gash near his eye from a flying puck to play outstanding hockey in the Boston nets.

Tom Johnson's blue-line shot bounced in off the shin pad of Boston defenseman Bill Quackenbush early in the second period, after the sturdy Bruins defense allowed the Canadiens only three shots at Henry in the scoreless opening session.

DEFLECTS LONG SHOT
Boston rookie Don McKenney tied the score by deflecting Quackenbush's long shot into the net, with his back to the goal, at 6:15.

Leo Labine finally lifted a 35-footer past Jacques Plante, a 60-minute performer in the Montreal cage as Canadian coach Dick Irvin abandoned his two-platoon goaltending.

Floyd Curry tied the count with a short backhand.

After Henry blocked a sizzling shot by Montreal's Bernie Geoffrion, Eddie Sandford deflected a long shot by defenseman Leo Boivin to give the Bruins the lead for the second time.

GEOFFRION TIES SCORE
Geoffrion's labelled blue-line shot tied the score again at 12:40 and four minutes later Henry was hit in the side of the head by Calum Mackay's drive and collapsed to the ice.

Returning to the ice after the stitching job, the 34-year-old veteran kept his net clear for the remainder of the regulation time.

In the overtime, Dickie Moore grabbed a loose puck near the Montreal net and eluded Boston forward Fleming Mackell. He passed to Marshall at centre ice and the 23-year-old youngster from Verdun, Que., went in from Henry's left to take advantage of the goaltender's puffed eye, partially closed from Mackay's shot.

Indies Recover From Slow Start

KINGSTON, Jamaica (Reuters) — An unbroken sixth wicket stand of 120 by Clode Walcott, 95 not out, and Colie Smith helped the West Indies recover from a poor start against Australia on the third day of the first test cricket match here.

Replying to Australia's first innings total of 515 for nine wickets declared, the West Indies lost two wickets for 27 runs and half the side was out for 101 before Walcott and Smith came together.

At the close of play they were 221 for five.

OCEAN PARK, Calif.—See Gonzalez, 129, Denver, and Leroy Richards, 129, Los Angeles, drew 109.

Jim Pickup Favored In Distance Gallop

A large number of entries has been received for the second annual Canadian Legion-sponsored Vancouver Island junior long-distance running championship race Friday afternoon.

Favored Jim Pickup of Victoria High will find stiff competition in the five-mile event, with schoolmate Ian Fraser and Victoria College entries Brian Perry-Whittingham and Jim Moore rated a good chance to take the title won last year by Ray Hampden of Maple Ridge High School.

This year Hampden is attending the University of California,

Leswick Makes Three-Point Landing

Goalkeeper Harry Lumley and Brian Cullen of Toronto Maple Leafs take startled glances at Detroit Red Wing forward Tony Leswick as he slides by them on the ice. Fiery Leswick made a three-point landing after being dumped by a defenseman in an attempt to score. The Red Wings wasted little time in these antics, however, and shoved enough rubber past Lumley to give them a four-game sweep in their NHL best-of-seven semi-finals.

Edmonton Team Meets Alberni In Cage Final

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Towne Hallers proved their supremacy for the second time in as many nights by defeating Winnipeg Paulins 67-71 Tuesday night before 1,500 fans to win a best-of-three western Canadian semi-final senior basketball series 2-0.

The Edmonton club, 1955 Alberta champions, defeated the Maplelites and defending Canadian champion Paulins 71-70 in the opener Monday night.

Hallers now meet Alberni Athletics in a best-of-five western final series starting at Port Alberni, B.C., April 6.

The quick-breaking Hallers took a 22-17 first-quarter lead and led 36-37 at halftime despite Paulins' edge in territorial play.

Paulins moved ahead 51-40 in the third quarter but lagged during the last four minutes with Winnipeg sparkplug Carl Ridd and teammates Ralph Watts and Herb Olafsson fouled out.

Heading the foray into the Interior is Don Laisley of Nelson, manager of the crew that won the British Empire Games title over England last summer.

One thing appeared certain in the "beating" department: captain Ted Kennedy will never try to beat the Wings, or any other team, again. The Teeder has insisted this was his final season, and he looked glum enough after Thursday's effort, to hang 'em up forever.

Effortless Gordie Howie fired his first goal in more than two years in Toronto during the same period when linemate Ted Lindsay drew four Leafs—and goater Harry Lumley—to the back of the net and passed out to the waiting and uncovered Howe.

LESWICK SCORES
Tony Leswick blasted the third goal into an empty Toronto net from centre ice late in the third frame after Leaf coach King Clancy pulled Lumley in favor of six forwards.

CALGARY—Victoria Cougars have one more chance remaining in their Western Hockey League series with Calgary Stampede.

But after Tuesday night in the Stampede Corral it is doubtful if that will be enough.

For the Stampede, this particular night, had more on the Cougars than they will need ever afterwards to win any series victory.

Beset by injuries and illness—the illness hanging over the last two weeks of the season—the Cougars now appear as a stepping stone to the league finals.

Defeated 5-0 in the fourth game of the series here Tuesday night, Cougars now must win all their games, the fifth being scheduled here Thursday.

There is little to be said of Tuesday's game except the score, that would premise the Cougars' position today.

They are undermanned, weakened by illness and injury, and even the most optimistic fan would regard their chances as being practically impossible.

The reason being that Mickey Keating has come down with a severe attack of influenza, Alex Kuzma is suffering from a cracked rib, Barton Bradley is still sidelined as a result of his losing bout with the flu, and Pete Durham's condition is an unknown factor at the moment.

Keating was ill before the game but attempted to take his regular position in the line-up. However, he became seriously ill at the end of the first period and saw no action thereafter.

But from then on, starting with a slashing penalty to Heberton at 11:45, the Stampede reigned supreme.

There was little effort from the Cougars; from then until the finish they appeared weak, tired and inept.

Doc Couture got the first goal for the Stamps with Heberton off, picking up a rebound off the backboards to slap the puck in the open net, the Stampede leading 1-0 at the end of the first period.

Goalie Marcel Pelletier was the main stumbling block to the Stamps in the second as they out-shot the Cougars eight to one. He saved three times, in particular, from Syd Finney before Finney got the draw on a faceoff in the Cougar zone and slid the puck into the Cougar net, seemingly off Heberton's stick.

Fortunate as this counter was, and it tolled the death knell of the Cougars, the Stamps held complete control of the play for the remainder of the contest.

Pat Coburn made it 3-0 at 6:25 of the third on a rebound from Kyle's shot and Steve Witluk intercepted two passes in the Cougar zone late in the game to salt the decision away.

There was no doubt that the Stampede were clearly superior in this one, and barring a complete reversal of form, must be "favored" to end the series Thursday night.

The main hope for the Cougars appears to lie in their ability to snap back from series of misfortune that have hit them of late.

Certainly the spirit is willing but the flesh is, just as obviously, weak.

strong finisher, clung to Savoie in the closing rounds.

It was Lane's 28th victory against four losses. Savoie decided Carter in a 10-round non-title fight in February, 1953. He was stopped by Carter in a title fight 10 months later and has been sliding downhill ever since.

Lape, who was promised a crack at lightweight champion Mike Carter this summer, started slowly and tired rapidly in the closing rounds. The Muskogean, Mich., southpaw pressed Savoie throughout most of the 10-round bout but had trouble landing solid punches.

Savoie, a former Canadian lightweight champion from Montreal, had trouble coping with Lane's southpaw stance and shifted periodically until he finally settled on a southpaw style in the eighth round.

There were no knockdowns. Lane's nose bled throughout most of the fight from a blow Savoie landed in an early round. Savoie was unmarked.

Neither fighter seemed in top condition. Both tired easily and Lane, who supposedly is a

HACK, WHEEZE

Reds Blast Smoke, Jazz In U.S. Meets

MOSCOW (AP)—The cigarette smoke in Madison Square Garden in New York and other United States arenas where indoor track meets are held is ruining European athletes, the Russians say.

This contention is published in Soviet Sports, Russia's leading sports newspaper.

The newspaper devoted a three-column article to the performances of United States track and field athletes.

Soviet Sports printed the complaint of a Norwegian runner named Audun Boysen. The newspaper quoted the Norwegian as saying that U.S. indoor track conditions ruined European athletes.

Boysen is quoted as saying American indoor track meets remind him of a circus. He says "athletes are blinded by the bright lights and that the jazz music in the arenas blares loudly and the air is filled with tobacco smoke."

Soviet Sports says that during the winter track season in the United States many records were set—but it observed "foreign visitors could not win."

The newspaper adds: "It should be said that as a rule during the indoor track season in the U.S.A. there are two or three big meets and to attract spectators the Americans invite outstanding athletes from other countries, especially Europe."

"Along with this, after competing in the indoor American arenas on their short tracks with sharp turns and heavy atmosphere the achievements of foreign competitors are considerably reduced."

Bulk Best Bet for Umpires Says Giles to 'Lummox' Cry

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—If you have been toying with the idea of becoming a big league umpire and stand less than six feet tall, better give it up. You might sneak in, but your chances are not nearly so good as they would have been a generation ago when little guys such as the late Bill Keim were in their glory.

Dick Bartell, who was a scrappy little shortstop in his day, put the charge to president Warren Giles of the National League that he was hiring "nothing but big lummoxes" these days, and decrying the trend, and Giles readily conceded that he leaned toward bulk and majestic bearing in his arbiters.

"Other things being equal, I prefer to hire the big man," he said.

"I know that some of the greatest umpires we've ever had were little fellows, but I simply think it is more impressive when three or four big men walk out there to take charge of a game."

"Another thing, of course, is that men are coming bigger than they used to. Anytime I send a man to scout a minor league umpire of whom we have heard good reports, the chances are he will be a six-footer or better and will pack some weight. You may quote me also as saying that I think we have a better set of umpires than the other league."

And why would his men in blue, taken as a group, be any more efficient than those of the American League?

"Our players are better," Giles replied equably, "so why shouldn't our umpires be better too? Maybe our umpires are instructed a little differently and work harder at their job."

Giles also said that he had heard good reports of the chances are he will be a six-footer or better and will pack some weight. You may quote me also as saying that I think we have a better set of umpires than the other league."

Hat-Happy Local Girls Primp As Femme Puck Series Resumes

'Three-goal' Mickey Couch plays tonight.

Let's face it. There's hardly a woman in the country who has not a consuming interest in hats. Women's hats have made quivering paupers out of husbands and eccentric millionaires out of headgear designers. Birdcages and fruit salads have been used as models for women's hats. Some women, when at a low spiritual ebb or angry at their husbands, restore their good feelings by buying hats.

Mickey Couch, being a young woman, also has an interest in hats. But these particular hats are not to be displayed on a head. They belong on a hockey score sheet, the reward for scoring three goals.

Mickey, a comely forward on Joe Dukowski's Victoria Girls' Hockey Team, scored a hat trick Saturday night in Nanaimo as the Victoria team beat Nanaimo Clippers, 3-1. It was the second meeting between the teams; the first game ending in a 1-1 tie.

Tonight, the teams put on their first display for the consumption of Victoria fans. The Victoria girls will be out to keep their record clean against the up-Islanders when they take on Nanaimo at Memorial Arena at 8. Manager of the Nanaimo team is Nanaimo Civic Arena manager Bill Oliver, a former Victorian who once was an executive of the Commercial Hockey League.

If you are going to be at the game, keep your eye on Mickey Couch. She will be trying for three more goals tonight. After all, what women ever had enough hats.

MUSIAL TO FIRST

Stanky Beams Over Brilliant Outfield

By FRED DOWN
(United Press Sports Writer)

Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals shifted Stan Musial to first base today and formed a brilliant young outfield which he said "is potentially the best I've ever seen."

Rookie Bill Virdon, key man in the new alignment, was installed in centre field with Wally Moon, the National League's Rookie of the Year in 1954, taking over in left field and Rip Repulski playing right field. Virdon, 23, hit a .333 for Rochester in the International League last season while Moon, 25, hit .304 and Repulski, 27, hit .283 for the Cardinals.

"Potentially, I've got to say it's the best trio I've ever seen," Stanky said. "In a couple of years they may be reminding St. Louis fans of the Musial-Moore-Slaughter combination."

NO WORRY
Musial's shift to first base involved no problem, since the great slugger has played the position at least part-time in eight of his 13 big league campaigns. He played both first base and outfield last season, when he hit .330. His switch to first rounds out an infield which also has Red Schoendienst at second base, Solly Hemus or Alex Grammas at shortstop and rookie Ken Boyer at third base.

"With Boyer, Moon, Virdon and Repulski in the lineup, you have got to say the Cardinals' farm system is really paying off," Stanky pointed out.

Stanky's new lineup made its debut at St. Petersburg, Fla., Tuesday and looked excellent in turning back the New York Yankees' B team, 6-2. Moon, Virdon and Boyer all homered in an 11-hit assault on Ed Lopat and Tommy Byrne.

Shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs and centerfielder Frank Thomas of the Pittsburgh Pirates, meanwhile, continued their red-hot hitting.

Banks, who had five hits on Monday, smashed a homer, double and single Tuesday to lead the Cubs to a 9-7 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Thomas delivered his second game-winning hit in the only three games he's played this spring when his two-run, ninth-inning homer gave the Pirates a 9-3 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

The Athletics had a scare when pitcher Bobby Shantz was struck on the left side of the head by a liner off the bat of rookie Earl Smith. Shantz, a 24-game winner in 1952, was carried off the field on a stretcher but X-rays revealed no fracture and his only apparent injury was a cut ear.

Saanich PCs Ask Vote on National Flag

Saanich Progressive Conservative Association will urge the province to exempt pensioners from payment of school tax on the basis of a means test, the association resolved at its monthly meeting last week-end.

The meeting also passed a resolution asking that selection of a Canadian flag be left in part to the people of Canada to decide by plebiscite.

Copies of the resolution regarding tax exemption were to be mailed to the provincial secretary, the minister of finance and Saanich MLA John D. T. Tisdale.

The association attributes the responsibilities of increasing property taxation in B.C. to the mounting costs of education, and charges this as a burden on those property owners whose sole income is a small pension.

A Canadian flag should finally be selected by a committee acting in accordance with results of a nation-wide plebiscite to choose the predominant feature of a typically Canadian flag.

In order that there be no doubt as to popularity of the winning symbol, voting should be on an alternative ballot, the association decided.

IF IRREGULARITY IS YOUR PROBLEM

Try this safe, natural way to relieve constipation

You've probably tried lots of laxatives. But do you know about Kellogg's All-Bran? It's the original natural laxative cereal pioneered by W. K. Kellogg nearly 40 years ago. All-Bran is a delicious dish that promotes comfortable elimination.

Relief from Constipation

The greatest advantage of All-Bran is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to insufficient bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage. All-Bran, is made from the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel and supplies natural food bulk. Just eat daily a one ounce serving for breakfast and drink plenty of water. It will improve your "Intestinal Tone" so necessary to comfortable regularity.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Double Your Money Back
All-Bran is a wholesome, good tasting cereal that has helped millions. We'll prove to you that Kellogg's All-Bran will give you gentle, effective relief from constipation within 10 days or give you double your money back. But be sure you get Kellogg's, the one and only All-Bran. Kellogg's, London, Ontario.

Bigger, Better Indian Festival For May 22-23

The smoke signals are out to make arrangements for a bigger and better Indian whoop-de-doo at Maplebank Park on Esquimalt Harbor May 22 and 23. Percy Ross, chairman of the Vancouver Island Indian Festival, said today a meeting will be held at one of the tribal houses at the park Sunday when Indians from all parts of Vancouver Island will arrange a program for the third annual festival.

Last year the festival was attended by 3,000 people, and "left us with a bank balance," Mr. Ross said.

The program will include a race for 11-paddle war canoes, with up to 10 entries from Canadian and United States bands expected.

"We hope some donor will put up a perpetual challenge trophy for the event," Mr. Ross said. "We intend to offer cash prizes."

There will also be field sports, a tug of war and log burling, open to whites and Indians alike, and a display of native tribal dances.

Refreshments will include barbecued salmon and steamed clams, prepared in traditional native fashion, and clam chowder.

An innovation this year will be a beauty contest for girls of Indian tribes, with the winner to reign over the two-day festival, Mr. Ross said.

He said the decision to hold the festival again this year followed the announcement from the city that the May 24 celebrations would not include a regatta at the Gorge. It is sponsored wholly by Vancouver Island Indians, he said.

HOME GARDEN

Garden Should Be Ready For Hardy Annual Sowing

With the two wonderful days last week-end, even a heavy soil became workable, providing it had been cultivated previously.

Hardy annuals may be sown immediately outside in prepared beds or rows for cutting. The following are good for edges and bedding:

Alyssum, cynoglossum (Chinese forget-me-not), mignonette, viscaria and godetia.

For cut flowers in the house try larkspur in beautiful shades of pink and pure white, as well as blue; iberis (candytuft), there is a ruffled, hyacinth-flowered variety now available which develops enormous heads; godetia, and clarkia.

A bed of Anemone coronaria, the poppy flowered anemones, planted now will give a display of brilliance from about the end of June on through the whole summer, depending on the amount of moisture retentive material you provide in the bed at planting time.

A few ranunculus tubers planted adjacent to the anemones will provide the yellow and bronze colors lacking in the anemones.

If another bed of good soil can be prepared, a few corns of gladiolus may be planted for early flowering—or try some of the species gladiolus which give dainty loosely arranged blooms in place of a rigid spike.

In the vegetable garden, a well-prepared row may be sown with a few carrots, some spinach, and a pinch of lettuce thinly seeded. If these are used while young and tender, the row will be cleared for use again by the middle of June.

C of C Members Contribute for Balloon Parade

Appeal by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce for member firms to contribute toward the cost of a balloon contingent in the May 23 parade has met with "most encouraging response," Hector Crombie, chamber secretary, said today.

The balloons, eight feet high and shaped in the form of various story-book characters, are to be imported by the chamber from Newark, New Jersey, at a cost of $3,000.

Sixteen balloons will comprise the chamber's contribution to the parade. They are expected to have particular appeal to children.

The chamber has set April 1 as the goal for reaching its $3,000 quota.

Private Plane Facilities Needed, Tourist Body Told

Victoria is missing the boat by not providing facilities for private planes, Burges J. Gadsden, of the B.C. Aviation Council, told the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Mr. Gadsden said Victoria needed a landing field for light private aircraft and as long as it goes without, it will have to forfeit tourist dollars from rich Canadians and Americans who own their own planes and use that means for traveling during vacations.

Capt. Gadsden acknowledged there would be need for a helicopter landing field in Victoria as well, but said the need for a flying field was more pressing. Private planes are having their day now, he said. Helicopters are still to come.

Funeral Thursday For Mrs. Provis

LADYSMITH—Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in First United Church, Ladysmith, for Mrs. Annie Provis, who died in the Ladysmith General Hospital Sunday.

Mrs. Provis was born in Victoria 80 years ago. She was a resident of Ladysmith for many years before moving to Vancouver where she lived for the past 20 years.

Three months ago Mrs. Provis returned to Ladysmith for a visit, but fell ill and was admitted to Ladysmith hospital.

C. Andrews Rites Held in Ladysmith

LADYSMITH—Funeral services were held here for Charles Andrews, 70, who died March 23 at Ladysmith Hospital.

Born at Shedd, Ont., he had worked throughout B.C. as a traveling salesman, then retired here nine years ago. Surviving are a son, John, and a daughter, Mrs. Jack McLaren, both of Vancouver.

PARK SITES RESERVED IN WEST COAST AREA

PORT ALBERNI—Park sites will be reserved in the land to be opened up by the Alberni-Tofino Road, according to John Squire, M.L.A.

Speaking at the annual Scandinavian Club dinner here, he said several parksites will be reserved on the shore of Kennedy Lake before the road is constructed, and two or three sites have been selected on Sprout Lake.

Although 90 per cent of Long Beach is privately owned, he said the government has acquired two choice sites. Another beach at Tofino also has been set aside for the public, he said.

School Burden In Ladysmith Due to Ease

City, Municipality to Benefit Under New Equalization Plan

LADYSMITH—Tax requirement of School District 67 (Ladysmith) under the new equalization plan will be $115,783 less this year than it was last year, but all of the reduction will go to the two organized areas in the district, according to figures submitted at a special meeting of the school board.

Total budget for the year is $397,671.

The total requirement from taxes this year will be $144,010, as compared with a total of $259,793 in 1954.

Of this total North Cowichan Municipality will pay $68,943, compared with $126,545 in 1954; Ladysmith will pay $29,451, compared with $35,383 last year; and the rural areas will pay $45,616, compared with $39,118 in 1954.

RATES PEGGED

Actually, the rural area's share of the total tax requirement last year was $97,864, but because of the eight-mill peg on school taxes in the rural areas, the provincial government paid the major portion of it.

This year the tax rate for school operating expenses is pegged in both the rural and organized areas, with the rural rate being pegged at seven mills and the municipal rate at 10 mills. Additional levies for capital expenditures will boost the rural rate to 12.1 mills, the Ladysmith rate to 15.1 mills, and the North Cowichan rate to 15 mills.

The shift in the burden of school taxes results from the fact that these mill rates will be levied on the new equalized assessment figures which show a substantial increase over 1954 assessments.

ASSESSMENTS UP

Ladysmith's assessment for school purposes totals $1,949,414 against $1,032,464 last year. North Cowichan's assessment has jumped from a 1954 figure of $3,692,623 to $4,563,171 this year, and the rural assessment, which totaled $2,855,851 in 1954, now stands at $3,767,000.

The new assessments have also altered the percentage shares of school taxes which each portion of the district will pay. The 1955 percentage figures, with the 1954 figures in brackets, are as follows: Ladysmith, 18.96 (13.62); North Cowichan, 44.39 (48.71); rural areas, 36.65 (37.67).

These figures were announced by the school board at a meeting with three of the four rural representatives, Chris Southin, Saltair; Beatty Davis, Bayview, and John Stewart, The Diamond, were in attendance, but Mrs. H. Wade, Thetis Island, was absent due to illness.

The three representatives present voted unanimously in favor of the budget. It has been approved by the department of education, so all that is now needed is the approval of the city and municipal councils.

B.C. Pre-Midget Basketball Tilt Starts April 8

CHEMAMINUS—The B.C. pre-midget basketball championship tournament will be held in Chemainus April 8 and 9.

To date, six boys' teams and four girls' teams have mailed in their entries, and others are expected this week-end. There have been no entries so far from the Mainland.

The pre-midget tournament is the same as the "biddy" tournament staged here last year. Last year's winners in the boys' division—from Chemainus—will be out to retain their title, while Duncan, defending champion in the girls' division, also will be out to retain honors.

Following entries have been received for the boys' division: Victoria First United, Cordova Bay, Alberni, Shawnigan Lake, Cumberland and Chemainus; girls—Duncan, Alberni, Cordova Bay and Chemainus.

Salary Scale For Teachers Criticized

LADYSMITH—Present salary scales for teachers do not provide sufficient incentive, Saltair representative Chris Southin said at a meeting of District 67 School Board.

"We must get to the point where we can pay good teachers more than we pay poor teachers," he said.

Budget passed by the board showed $215,750 will be paid in teachers' salaries this year instead of the $201,000 paid last year.

Under the present system the good teachers were forced to carry the poor ones, yet the poor ones received the same pay, he said. As an example, he said that a poor grade 5 teacher would pass a class along to a good grade 6 teacher and the grade 6 teacher would have to go back over grade 5 work before she could start on her own grade level.

HOLD TWO JOBS

Members of the board agreed with Mr. Southin, but said there was nothing they could do about it.

Beatty Davis, Bayview, objected to teachers driving school buses. He said people knew they were getting good salaries as teachers and felt they should let someone else have the bus driving job.

"We hear talk about unemployment and then we see well-paid people holding down more than one job," he said.

Trustee Alex Smith said that physical and mental standards required of school bus drivers were high, and it was difficult to find people who could qualify who were willing to work part time at the hours required for bus drivers.

Supermarket Opening Due In Duncan

DUNCAN—A new Super-Valu store on Trunk Road, between the city centre and Trans-Canada Highway, now is being stocked and is due for opening April 1.

Only other major construction project contemplated here is a new building for Cowichan branch, Canadian Legion, according to R. S. Robinson, National Employment Service manager.

Although sawmills in the district have been running at full capacity, he said, turnover of labor has been negligible. Only a few casual workers have been hired in the last month to replace regular men who were ill or to fill short-term jobs.

MANY VACANCIES

Mr. Robinson reported 90 per cent of the women registered for employment are married, and that few vacancies exist with the exception of those for housekeepers and domestic workers.

Single clerical workers and stenographers are in short supply, but there is a heavy surplus of sales clerks with no demands for this type of help.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Strait thinking or, it's all right to be all at sea as long as you know you're all at sea.

Been thinking about a certain deep-sea pilot, now retired. This captain piloted more ships in and out of West Coast harbors than any other man in the B.C. Pilotage Authority.

And he was a great one for the book. He studied tide tables religiously, memorized notices to mariners, pored over charts which marked possible currents.

But, when he was asked about his success in docking ocean-going ships with ease and lack of damage, he remarked:

"Well, I study all the books. And then I approach the dock with an open mind."

Did you hear about the navy frogman who was fined in court the other day?

Turns out he didn't have a diver's license.

Sunrise at sea is just about the most beautiful sight in the world.

But why does it have to come so blasted early in the morning?

I like tugboats. I've always liked tugboats, and I will always like tugboats.

They invariably get where they are going, but they never waste time hurrying.

Tugboats are completely unlike modern man, who hasn't the vaguest idea where he is going, and is in a tearing hurry to get there.

Sometimes I am afraid he will.

(This is my only philosophical contribution for 1955. Honest).

I've been thinking of starting a junior auxiliary to the Save Ripple Book Association.

This will be the Prevent People from Turning Stones Over with a Stick while Walking Along the Beach Association.

After all, rocks are perfectly happy where they are, and do not wish to be turned over.

How would you like it if you were sitting on a beach, and a rock came along and turned YOU over?

The only other Strait thought I have today is, what time does the swim start, skipper?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

On Thursday at 8.30 p.m. the Arts Centre will offer the 5th in its "Anthology" series. The evening will consist of talks by Victoria architects and painters on the designers, architects and artists associated with the famed German "Bauhaus" of the 1920's, a school whose theories have strongly influenced all fields of present-day design.

A social evening will be held by the Multiple Sclerosis Society in the Red Cross rooms, 1046 Fort Street, March 31 at 8 p.m.

One-month prison term was imposed on a 52-year-old booster box shoplifter, William Mawle, of Shawnigan Lake, when he appeared in city police court today on three shoplifting charges. Mawle was charged with theft over $25 value and theft under $25 value from Hudson's Bay Company store and with theft of $185 worth of meat from Safeway Stores Ltd. He pleaded guilty to all charges.

Red Cross officials feel the current $74,000 fund campaign will be successful, even though today's noon total was $21,000 short of the target and canvassing halts Thursday night.

Total at noon was $50,125—67 per cent of the goal. Late returns from canvassers are expected to make up the difference between now and final audit in mid-April.

Meantime officials have asked any resident who has not yet been canvassed to either mail or bring in donations to Red Cross House, 1046 Fort Street, or phone and a worker will call.

Medical Exams Compulsory For Seamen

Compulsory medical examinations for all persons employed on sea-going vessels will come into force in August, with implementation of an International Labor Organization maritime convention.

The convention applies to "every sea-going vessel, whether publicly or privately owned which is engaged in the transport of cargo or passengers for the purpose of trade."

Crew members must have an initial examination before being signed on, and periodical tests thereafter.

Application of the convention is to vessels of at least 200 tons gross register, but not wooden vessels of primitive build such as dories and junks; to fishing vessels or to estuarial craft.

ADOPTED IN 1946

Originally adopted by the maritime session of the ILO in Seattle in 1946, the convention was to become applicable under certain conditions, among them being ratification by at least seven of the world's principle maritime countries.

Of these, at least four should have a million tons of shipping each.

Canada is one of the 10 countries which have ratified the convention, and between them they had more than 18,000,000 tons of shipping in 1953.

An earlier international convention of 1921 required medicals for young seamen only.

Charge of driving with inadequate brakes March 21 on Fort Street resulted in a $10 fine for Romaine James, McTavish Road, Sidney, when he pleaded guilty to the charge in city police court today.

Robert Hoy, 2668 Cedar Hill Road, reported to city police Tuesday night theft of hubcaps, fender skirts and two car blankets from his car while parked on View Street near Blanshard. Value of the stolen goods is $51.

32,000 TWISTING FEELERS

Crabs—By the Clawing, Creeping Thousands—Real Horror Picture

By A.W.G.D.

Great scented crustaceans, but did they ever look horrible!

This was a moving mass of messy crabs, 4,000 of 'em, weighing 8,000 pounds and twisting 32,000 feelers and claws in a sort of mass agony ritual.

They are aboard the 49-ton Violet Prince today, bound for Seattle from the crab pots up the west coast of the Island.

Purveyor of the cargo is Roland Prince, 576 Dallas Road, who says he likes crabs "but doesn't eat many."

He has only to trip into the hold and they'll eat him. A 30-pound halibut with that nasty voracious crew lasts only about an hour. Everything is consumed but the skeleton.

So many crabs together, piled to a depth of four feet, look like a particularly grim ending to one of the more gory crime comic stories.

There's not a heavy market here for crabs and no mass cooking facilities, so they go to Seattle. There, kind gentlemen put them in warm water, which the crabs dislike. In fact, it knocks them out. Then they get a tubful of boiling water. This is the point of no return.

Only about five vessels on this coast fish crab. Roland Prince, who has been at it

VOTE ON RAIN-MAKING UP-ISLAND GROUP'S AIM

Courtenay-Comox Chamber of Commerce has condemned the action of the B.C. Power Commission in hiring rainmakers to increase the snowpack in the Campbell River watershed that serves the John Hart Development.

A resolution protesting the action will be forwarded to the B.C. Chamber of Commerce for discussion at its provincial convention in Vancouver May 5.

"We will speak to the resolution," Lyall Barrie, president of the Island chamber, told the Times by telephone today.

"It will be up to the B.C. chamber to take it from there." The resolution objects, in part, to rainmaking machines that "interfere with nature by changing the weather to suit the needs of individuals."

"Our weather is as much a heritage as our land, and no individual or company has the right to alter it," Mr. Barrie said.

He said his chamber feels a plebiscite should be called in areas to be affected by rainmaking operations.

NEW TIMES SERIES

Fluoridation —Pro and Con

Mounting interest in fluoridation of city water, which has gained both strong support and active opposition, has resulted in a Times series discussing all aspects of the subject, first installment of which follows.

By TONY DICKASON

People, fundamentally, don't like medicines, though at times they are essential to well-being.

This is perhaps the basis of opposition in years past to many aspects of scientific progress which have improved health of populations.

Measures that we now take for granted once drew storms of protest. These included pasteurization, vaccination, and chlorination. Latest "ation" to have opponents and proponents tilting at each other is fluoridation.

Simply, those favoring fluoride in public water claim it drastically cuts dental decay, caries, among children. The opposition says fluoride is a poison, and its harmful effects far outweigh benefits.

Authorities endorsing use of fluoride include the Canadian Dental Association, Canadian Medical Association, the Canadian Public Health Association, the National Research Council and their counterparts in the United States.

'Crack-Pots', Say Doctors

From what can be discovered, persons opposing fluoridation wear the same cloak as did their predecessors who were against vaccination and pasteurization. This cloak figuratively, is a lack of anything but a layman's limited knowledge of the subject.

Medical and dental authorities largely consider them crack-pots!

Fluorine is a poison, but in the minute amounts it would be added to a water system, it would be impossible for even the most determined would-be suicide to develop even the slightest symptoms. Some areas in the world have natural fluorides in water as high as 18 times more than medical and dental men say is necessary to preserve teeth of children.

Today there is a shortage of dentists in Canada, and in British Columbia also. In this province are about 450 dentists—one to every 2,666 persons. With this terrifically light ratio, it seems reasonable to suppose that every step that can be taken to improve teeth without consulting the dental fraternity would have public acclaim.

Studies show that four of five six-year-olds have suffered from dental decay, and the average Canadian child starting school already has five of his baby teeth decayed. The average 12-year-old already has eight of his permanent teeth decayed and lost one of these.

Natural Fluorides Benefit

Scientists have discovered that where fluorides (chemical compounds containing fluorine) are found in drinking water, people have less tooth decay. At least part of the answer is because when teeth are formed in childhood, fluorides become part of teeth enamel, producing better-formed caries-resistant teeth.

Where water contains natural fluorides, the people automatically benefit. Where not present in sufficient quantities, they can be added artificially with the same beneficial results.

Ontario has taken the lead. There community water supplies are fluoridated at Deep River, Brantford, Oshawa, Sudbury, Fort Erie and Thorold. In Saskatchewan fluoridation is under way in Moose Jaw and Assiniboia.

Last word from Brandon, Manitoba, and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, was that these two cities were due to start immediately. In Quebec, equipment has been installed at Point Claire, just outside Montreal.

Asylum Escapee Swung Vote

In British Columbia, Kelowna, the premier's home town, Smithers and Prince George have approved fluoridation. Elsewhere throughout the country the issue is being discussed in dozens of communities.

Near here in the U.S., Seattle voted fluoridation down. Reason given was a last-minute impassioned plea by anti-fluoridationists that the move would cause sterility. Medical men have proven this has no basis, but the people panicked. Main instigator of the defeat in Seattle is a man now returned to an asylum. He had escaped earlier.

Stratford, Ont., site of the famed play festival, is an excellent example of a community where fluorides occur naturally. There water is 1.3 parts of fluoride for every 1,000,000 parts of water. In this city the average six-to-eight-year-old has only two foundation teeth decayed, and the average 12-to-14-year-old has only three of his permanent teeth showing any signs of caries. And one-quarter of the 12-14 age group shows no signs of decay at all.

Compare this to the national picture outlined a few paragraphs back.

Driving Habits Scored by Judge

Young Men at Wheel Said Irresponsible

Twenty-year-old Morey A. Fletcher of Methosin was fined $500 at the close of the Victoria Spring Assize Court today after being convicted earlier on a dangerous driving charge.

He was prohibited from driving for three years, also.

The fine was imposed by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane who said he is concerned with "the atrocious driving" of young men in Victoria.

He said the driving was particularly bad between Langford and Colwood Corner.

Fletcher originally was charged with manslaughter in the traffic death of pedestrian John Anderson of Calgary who died September 4. The accident occurred at Douglas and Yates.

"What are we going to do with these young drivers?" the judge asked. "I don't want to send them to jail, but something has to be done to impress these young people of the necessity of thinking of others."

PERTURBED

He said he was particularly perturbed with Fletcher's case. The young man had not intentionally hit Anderson, he said, but did not seem to be aware that a life had been taken.

The judge pointed out that from what he had observed that many young drivers were discourteous.

"It is atrocious, the condition of driving on the island," he said. "I have observed it myself. The young people can't be allowed to drive without showing a sense of responsibility."

RATINGS FINED

Clifford Le Rocque, and Gerald McGurk, RCN ratings stationed at Royal Roads, were each fined $50 on a charge of common assault. They were convicted Monday by a Assize Court jury of assaulting taxi driver Joseph Kong in Victoria, February 22.

Lt.-Cmdr. Howard Clark, RCN, was called to the witness stand to give character evidence on behalf of the two naval ratings.

"A prison term," he said, "would not do any good to the two men."

He said they would be subject to naval discipline upon their return to barracks if they were fined.

Careless Driving Charge Laid In Fatal Mishap

Driver of a car which struck and killed a city man March 3 on Hillside Avenue near Gosworth pleaded guilty in city police court today to a careless driving charge.

Magistrate Henry C. Hall remanded Robert John Bull, aged 18, of 728 Pine Street, to Tuesday for sentence and disposition of driver's license.

Killed in the accident was William H. S. Glew, 64, of 1501 Oakland Avenue. An inquest following the fatality returned a verdict of accidental death.

Court was told Bull was the driver of a car proceeding east on Hillside Avenue which struck a pedestrian near Gosworth.

Police alleged the accused told them he was traveling 30 miles per hour and didn't see the pedestrian until he was hit with the right fender of the vehicle. They said the vehicle traveled 239 feet after the collision before stopping.

It was pointed out in court that the pedestrian was crossing in the middle of the block.

ASK THE TIMES

Q—Approximately how many cars came into Victoria during 1954 from Seattle, Vancouver and Port Angeles? How many of them came through Sidney?

A—The annual report of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau gives figures, but it is not possible to segregate them as fully as you desire. Canadian cars coming here from Vancouver or other Canadian points do not go through customs. During 1954 automobiles transported to Vancouver Island totaled 162,618. Automobiles handled by Canadian customs officers at the port of Victoria in 1954 totaled 66,932, carrying 190,932 passengers. At Victoria and Sidney combined the cars so handled totaled 86,418, carrying 258,063 passengers.

Q—I have a U.S. dime of the year 1888. Has its value increased with age?—G.C.

A—To collectors 87 years is not a great age for a coin. U.S. silver pieces of the pre-1900 period are still in circulation, and the Times is informed an 1888 dime is worth only face value. Collectors would not offer a premium.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

No More Nail Holes—
Glue Fastens Hooks

By PENNY SAVER

Don't pound that nail into the wall! Just because you need a hook for brushes or a container for soap or something, that doesn't mean you have to mar the walls with screw or nail holes. I know where you can buy plastic hooks and attachment holders that need only a little water applied to the glue-back to attach it to the wall. Directions? Well, just moisten the backs of the hook, or attachment, and work the water in, hold it securely for one minute. Leave it for 24 hours. Once attached, the pieces will hold up to 15 pounds and can be made to stick to plaster, tile, wood or glass. Pretty wonderful, aren't they. The double hooks cost 29 cents; three-prong hanger, 35 cents; three-arm towel holder, 69 cents, and soap dishes, either 19 cents or 39 cents.

For that dark hall, staircase or little used room in the house, buy one of the glow lights on sale in town. No more tripping down the stairs because you can't see where you're going, and Junior can have a small light in his bedroom if he wishes. A plug socket-holds a small half shaded light bulb, you just plug it into the wall plug, flick the switch, and there you have a little light that isn't bright enough to disturb you, but just bright enough to guide you if you don't want to turn on all the lights and disturb the rest of the family during the night. Yes, this little light has many uses... in the cellar, sick room, nursery... any number of places. How much? Only 69 cents.

Get rid of that ugly brown or black cord attached to the lamp in the children's room. Pastel cords in pink, blue, grey and light green in nine-foot lengths are selling at 39 cents. If you'd like to tone your own room to one color, choose the one that pleases you... it will add that "something extra" to your furnishings. Actually, they're a type of extension cord and can be easily attached to your appliance. A triple socket is another big feature of this cord. The sockets are plastic, while the plug is rubber... both in the pastel shades.

Here's something to "doll-up" your old standby evening dress or cocktail dress. You can buy strands of brilliant to tack onto dresses, or accessories, and it's as easy as can be. A single strand costs

$3.95 a yard; two strand, $5.95 per; three strand, $7.95 per, and four strand, $10.95 per yard. Try them tacked on the belt of your black classically styled dress or on the navy sun dress... amazing—what a little sparkle can do for a dress.

Fashion dispatches from Paris make note of Jacques Fath's black jersey bathing cap that opens up on top of the head. It's designed to provide a comfortable (?) carryall for beauty accessories.

AS WE LIVE

Everyone Needs
Some Social Life

By ELIZABETH E. HURLOCK, PhD

After working all day, many men have no interest in going out in the evenings. Here is a letter from a woman who feels the same way:

(Q)—"When my husband was alive, I used to get provoked at him for not wanting to go out in the evenings when I had been at home all day and wanted a change. Now, as a widow, I am faced with the same problem that he was. My mother, who is in her sixties, lives with me. My two children are away; one is married and the other is taking a nurse's training course. I have a job that keeps me out of the home from 8 o'clock in the morning until nearly 6 at night, and there are so many things to be done, as every woman who has a home knows. I welcome a quiet evening. My mother, on the other hand, is in the house all day, except for shopping and a few errands in the neighborhood. She always wants to go somewhere and do something in the evenings. I might add that her home was not here and she knows very few people. Of course I want mother to be happy and enjoy herself, but how can I cope with a job and social life too?"

(A)—It is hard to try to work and be out night after night. However, an occasional break during the week would be good for you. You need the recreation. If your mother is well enough to take care of the home and go out in the evenings, couldn't you suggest tactfully that she do some of the things you usually do in the evenings so you would be free to take her out?

Even more important, why not get her interested in some of the church and community organizations where she would meet women of her own age? If she makes some friends in your community, that will help to solve the problem of giving her entertainment.

You could have some of the women her age come to your home. Or you could send her in a taxi to their homes while you stayed at home and rested. Don't penalize your mother now while she is well enough to enjoy the last years of her life, even if it means sacrifices for you.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

Spiced Orange Wedges Now Glorify Easter Ham; Molasses Glaze Used

Martha Tupper, born in Mississippi, now a foremost food authority and wonderful cook as well, has given us the recipe for this glazed ham. It is truly the best. With it she sent a recipe for spiced orange wedges to serve with the ham.

Mrs. Tupper advises us to glaze the ham one-half hour before the meat is fully cooked. Remove rind then, score, and stick with cloves and then brush with glaze every 20 minutes until done.

ORANGE MOLASSES GLAZE

One-quarter cup orange marmalade, ¼ cup unsulphured molasses, ¼ cup prepared mustard, ¼ teaspoon Tabasco.

Combine all ingredients. Brush ½ over ham according to directions. Yield: ¼ cup.

SPICED ORANGE WEDGES

Four Valencia oranges, 2 cups sugar, 1 ½ cups water, ½ cup vinegar, 12 whole cloves, 3 pieces stick cinnamon.

Add water to whole oranges to cover; bring to a boil. Boil 20 minutes, or until easily pierced with a fork. Drain and cut into eighths. Combine sugar, water, vinegar, cloves and cinnamon; stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a

COFFEE JELLY PARFAIT (Six Servings)

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 2 ½ cups strong coffee, ¼ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon brandy flavoring, 1 cup whipping cream, ½ cup canned chopped buttered almonds.

Soften gelatin in ¼ cup of the cold coffee. Heat remaining coffee to boiling point. Add softened gelatin and sugar; stir until gelatin dissolves. Add flavoring. Pour into jelly roll pan or any shallow pan to depth of about ½ inch. Chill until firm. Cut into ½-inch cubes. Whip cream and sweeten to taste. Arrange alternating layers of coffee jelly cubes, whipped cream and almonds in tall dessert glasses.

Spring dainties that look sleeky and cloudsoft but wear like iron are orlon or nylon coats, toppers and negligees. These come in creamy pastels.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Tall Girl Should Take Advantage of Height

As most of you know the average height has increased greatly during past years. Today, in the United States, 12 per cent of the total population is more than 5 feet 8 inches tall. Not so long ago only 8 per cent were that tall. This, no doubt, reflects the rapidly expanded knowledge of nutrition.

I remember a few years ago, when talking with my husband about the fact that our daughter had grown 3 inches in one year, and therefore had to have all new clothes that fall I said, "I'm going to have to cut off her vitamins and put a brick on her head."

I was speaking financially only. While I am not a shorty I envied my daughter. I do not know why tall girls have complexes. They can wear wonderful clothes if they carry themselves correctly. They will have a bonus as they grow older.

They can always be stunning. Of course it really does not matter how tall or how short you are! You can be attractive at any height or at any age! It is up to you. It depends on your mental viewpoint and health, your posture and clothes which match your shortness or your height.

Today I want to bring you tall girls and women a few hints from Sylvia, of Tall Wear.

1. Talls can wear any styles Women Inspire Train Service Improvements

VANCOUVER—Women are given a large bouquet for inspiring many improvements in Canadian National Railways passenger train service and equipment.

A. C. L. Warner, general passenger agent for the CNR's B.C. district said that in surveys conducted by the CNR to determine what people wanted in the way of travel improvements, women had demonstrated a practical approach to the subject.

Idea inspired by women are found in the record number of new passenger cars put into service during the past year, and particularly on the Super Continental, the CNR's new high-speed transcontinental train.

Finger tip and push-button controls; beds that move up and down without effort; restful foam rubber seats adjustable by push-button action; and passenger control of air-conditioning and heating in private rooms are some of the ideas which the CNR adopted on the suggestion of women passengers. Mr. Warner said.

While many of these suggestions are a boon to the whole family, some are of particular advantage to women passengers. Among these are the newly designed washstands in sleeping car bedrooms. The washstands can be converted into vanity tables, complete with three-way mirrors, within seconds. They also have fingertip water temperature controls, and, wherever possible, plastic materials are used to improve cleanliness and appearance.

Durable Youngsters

BRISTOL, England (CP)—Four-year-old Brian and his little sister Pamela were playing in a bathroom when the door jammed.

While their parents tried to open it, the children fell 30 feet from the window, returned unhurt upstairs, and asked for some ice cream.

If the clothes are proportioned correctly. Narrow skirts can be worn stunningly, especially when broken with peg-top pleats, large pockets, flying panels, etc. Two-toned effects are good, and wide belts are wonderful! Large, chunky jewelry, armloads of bracelets, and especially huge earrings, are made for the tall girls.

2. As far as hats are concerned, the tall woman definitely can wear small hats so long as the crown fits her head properly, but if she wears a large brimmed hat, she should choose one with a deep crown, because the shallow brimmed large hat sits on the top of the head and establishes the tallest part of the girl's height. Cloches, with downward slanting brims are wonderful.

3. Be sure that the waistline is long enough and the skirts are 14 inches from the floor, or where the calf breaks. To discover where your natural waistline is, place the hands around the waist, bend to either side as far as possible. The point where the torso curves will be your true waistline. Stand tall! Feel tall! Live tall!

Large, chunky jewelry, armloads of bracelets, and especially huge earrings, are made for the tall girls.

For Many Exciting Weeks We Have Been Busy Altering Our Store. Our "Twice-As-Big" Premises Is Designed for Leisurely Shopping, with Four Spacious Fitting Rooms To Serve You Better.

Expert corsetry... a rare knowledge of figures and fit... a particular kind of fashion-conscious imagination all based upon generations of experience, combine to give us an ingenious sixth sense in advising just the right foundation garment to each individual customer who comes into Mae Meighen's.

We stand firmly behind every garment we sell. We sell the best makes because we believe in them, because we know they are right for our customers... Our customers tell their friends... this is how this business was built... why it has lasted for three successful generations... why it will in due course be passed on to the coming fourth generation. (Note: Because we insist your fit be perfect, we make all alterations on new foundation garments without charge.)

DO COME IN TO SEE US... COME NOW... COME TODAY... WHETHER YOU ARE IN A BUYING MOOD OR A LOOKING MOOD... WE'D LIKE YOU TO SEE OUR NEWLY EXPANDED SHOP.

UPLIFTING VICTORIA
FOR 28 YEARS

Mae Meighen Corset Shop does a "Two-Way" Stretch!

After shaping the silhouettes of glamorous Victoria women since the first shop was opened in 1927, it has become necessary to expand in two directions... twice the space and twice the stock!

The ever-increasing popularity of Mae Meighen's service, courtesy, and willingness to go to great lengths to satisfy every customer, has created an urgent need for more spacious fitting rooms, more shelf space for stock, more room for more customers to browse.

Mae Meighen started to learn the corset business when a young girl in 1906. After a varied experience she opened her own shop in 1927, and in three moves landed at the present location at 890 Fort Street in 1940. Her daughter Judy worked with her mother from her high school days, and took over the business when Mae Meighen passed away in 1942.

For the past five years Judy's daughter, Diane, has been giving excellent service to the teens and twenties crowd. Diane's daughter, Jerry, is now only four, but already she is pondering on the shape of things to come for her generation, when she plans to enter the firm!

When Mae Meighen made her debut in corsetry, foundation garments had all the attributes of steel girders. Genteel young women were laced, poured and pressed into ferris waists and heavy corsets.

Then came a swing toward comfort, ease and naturalness. Chemists and engineers dreamed up synthetic materials light as a breeze, latex, nylon, orlon, featherlight boning. Foundation garments today lightly persuade, gently restrain, cleverly camouflage. "Gay deceivers" have become an accepted basis for sweeter-girl charms.

Judy Barclay and daughter Diane Kostenuk are artists in their sphere. They insist that every fit be perfect and, to ensure that this is so, they do all alterations to new garments without charge. Many of the leading Canadian makers consult with Judy Barclay before finalizing new foundation garment designs.

COLORFUL CARPET IS BASIS OF "NEW LOOK"

A beautiful deep-pile turquoise colored wall-to-wall carpet gives a sparkling lift to the expanded Mae Meighen premises. Handsome tall fixtures, rows and rows of smart shelves... all painted a delicate "off-mauve" tint, create a relaxing shopping background.

The large, airy, fitting rooms and new, long mirrors give the customer pleasant and leisurely "try on" accoutrements.

Behind the scenes is a brand-new office and the kind of a work room Judy has always dreamed of.

Alta. Socred MLAs Charged With Government Contracts

EDMONTON (CP)—The status of two Social Credit members of the Alberta legislature was questioned Tuesday in the light of evidence given earlier in the day to the public accounts committee that the two members are renting an Edmonton building to the government.

Liberal leader J. Harper Prowse said a section of the Legislative Assembly Act prohibits a person from sitting in the House if he holds a contract with the government or has received public money.

84 Years in B.C., Harry A. Edgett Dies

VANCOUVER (CP)—Funeral service will be held Thursday for Harry A. Edgett, 84, pioneer Vancouver resident who died in hospital here Monday.

Native of Edgett's Landing, N.B., Mr. Edgett moved to Vancouver in 1891 and was engaged in the wholesale fruit and vegetable business until he retired in 1948. He was license commissioner for Vancouver for four years.

The public accounts committee heard evidence that provincial building No. 2 in Edmonton is owned by John C. Landryou (SC, Lethbridge), Roy Lee (SC, Taber) and William McNabb of Lethbridge. The government sold the building last year but then took a lease and pays rent for occupancy.

Mr. Prowse referred the government to another section which says any members disqualified under the act must forfeit a fine of $200 for every day he sits in the House while ineligible.

Nears End of the Road

TORONTO (CP)—High Park zoo reported Tuesday that Canada's only camel is nearing the end of the road. The gloomy word accompanied the news that Dizzie the camel is 30 years old this month. Zoo officials said Dizzie's days are numbered; that no camel can expect to get much past 30.

Minckler Fund Boosted Over $1,000 Mark

Public donations on behalf of the Gordon Minckler family who lost their Happy Valley home in a March 14 fire total more than $1,000, fund co-ordinator Mrs. F. W. Slater said today.

Belmont High School has contributed $200, mostly through receipts from a play, and over $250 was realized from a Luxton-Happy Valley ratepayers' dance.

Mrs. Slater reports exceptionally good response from the public with regard to gifts of clothing and household goods, and hopes financial contributions will continue to come in. Money will go toward purchase of new property and building materials for the Minckler home. The family would like to settle closer to Colwood than Latoria Road, site of their late home.

HOPE'S HOPE—French singer Line Renaud (above) who was discovered in Paris by Bob Hope, arrived in Hollywood for a singing engagement. She will return to France next month to make a movie and then come back to Hollywood where Hope hopes she will be a hit in American movies.

Hotel Georgia Fire Causes $2,000 Damage

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fire destroyed a fourth floor room at Hotel Georgia Tuesday, causing an estimated $2,000 damage and sending members of the Edmonton Flyers hockey team down the hall choking from smoke fumes.

Howe Street pedestrians were showered with glass when an unnoticed fire in room 408 of the hotel blew out the window. The fire, believed to have been caused by a smouldering cigarette, was confined by fireproof walls to the single room.

Members of the Edmonton hockey team, whose rooms were on the fourth floor, made their way through the smoke-filled corridors to vacate the building. Flyers play Vancouver Canucks in a Western Hockey League semi-final game here tonight.

AUCTION AT STATELY HOME

Collector of Early Cars Pays $475 for 'Fernwood' Carriage

Probably the last of Victoria's great auctions of articles from old stately homes took place Tuesday when contents of "Fernwood" were sold at public auction.

Highlight of the event was sale of a glass-enclosed carriage, circa 1900, which brought $475 from Phil Foster, collector of antique cars. He intends to show it to Victorians on festive occasions.

The green-tinted carriage belonged to "Fernwood" owners, the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin William Pearce.

ARCHIVIST BUYS

In the two-day auction nearly 15,000 persons went through the home, built in 1860. Mrs. Pearce lived there until her death there a little more than a year ago.

Provincial archivist Willard Ireland bought a number of historical paintings and pictures for the archives, including sketches by Whymper, of But Inlet, "the best records of Washington Road," an E. T. Coleman water color of the Inner Harbor, 1860, and a mountain scene by Josephine Crease. For a Lady Crease painting of "Fernwood," he paid $60; a picture of Victoria's firm army volunteers showing B. W. Pearce, cost $60. Mr. Ireland paid $8 for a cartridge belt and uniform insignia of the volunteers who later were to become the city's famed 5th Regiment.

Chairs, bedroom fixtures, cutlery and glassware went for various prices, a tile-backed marble-top dresser bringing $23. The house and eight acres of ground will be sold separately by private bid.

Mrs. Pearce's $300,000 estate will shortly be settled, with settlements made for the Royal National Lifeboat Institute and the Mission to Deep Sea Fishermen in Britain.

More than 500 islands and islets, mostly uninhabited, lie off the west coast of Scotland.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

District Notes: A preliminary Cub leaders' training course has been arranged to start April 18, in district headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street. Frank Naish will be "Akela"; Winnie Bennett, "Baloo"; and Winnie Lees, "Bagheera," while Art Chamberlain will be "Grey Brother". Anyone interested in taking this course is asked to get in touch with H.Q.

R. Ken Jordan, provincial executive commissioner, addressed the Victoria district leaders at a meeting in headquarters on methods of helping pack and troop leaders with their programs. Mr. Jordan will attend the executive council meeting Thursday evening.

Gordon Head Group: Assistant District Commissioner Martin Dawson presented the group with its charter last Friday. A number of parents were on hand.

Fairfield Group: Fred Fatt, Frederick Jermain, Tommy Jones and Richard Keate went up to the troop in a "going-up" ceremony. They were welcomed by Scoutmaster Bill Hurst.

Esquimalt Group: The Rover crew heard an address by Frank G. Rainsford of the B.C. Forest Service on aerial photography.

Sidney Group: The "A" and "B" packs held a combined meeting on Monday at which District Cubmaster Winnie Bennett attended. This meeting was the 30th anniversary of this pack. Some of the original members attended, also members of the group committee. Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting.

Chinese Group: At the regular meeting of the pack, Tony Eng was welcomed as a recruit. The troop will go for a tree identification hike Sunday.

Queen Alexandra Solarium Group: Bobby Winder was presented with his artist badge and first year service star. This handicapped group is looked after by Scoutmaster Jim Redwood of Deep Cove.

Salvation Army Group: Area Commissioner Stan Jackson for the Mt. Pleasant Area, Vancouver, welcomed the Cubs at the regular morning service Sunday. Mr. Jackson is the holder of the "Gillwell Beads" for his work with Wolf Cubs.

Emmanuel Baptist Group: Bernard Hall was invested as a Wolf Cub. A parents' evening was held by the group at which District Cubmaster Harry Ward attended.

Honeymoon Bay Group: Queen Scouts Bruce Wright and Malcolm Stranack will be sent to the 8th World Jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake this summer.

Mesachie Lake Group: At a "going-up" ceremony, J. Millar, J. Smith, J. Hajala and G. Jack went up the troop and were welcomed by Scoutmaster D. Berry. Scouts of this troop who have been awarded their "Fireman's Badge" are G. McAllister, R. Orr and B. Cook.

Duncan District: Lt. Col. T. V. Sandys Wunsch was presented with the Scout medal of merit by Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace for outstanding service to scouting.

Parkville District: The district has collected the sum of $602 for the activities of Scouts and Cubs in this district. The membership is steadily growing in this area.

Campbell River Group: Robin Barnaby and Alan Simmons have qualified for their "First Class" badge. David Barnaby received his Dog Handler's badge at the same time.

Third Victoria Group: The troop went for an exploring hike on Sunday, going by bike to Mt. Douglas to look over the old mine shaft there. The pack was visited by the new leaders from the Baptist group.

Sidney Troop: Rodney Coward and Clifford Burrows were invested as Scouts and received Leaping Wolf badges from Akela Nora Cook of the Sidney "B" Pack.

Atomic Materials Traded by India

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told parliament Tuesday India is exchanging atomic information and materials with "three or four countries"—but Russia is not one of them. Nehru did not otherwise identify the countries with which India is co-operating on atomic matters.

Animal Lovers Criticize Billy Graham

LONDON (AP) — American evangelist Billy Graham says he is unhappy that some members of Britain's League Against Cruel Sports think he is indifferent to the welfare of animals.

Graham was one of several prominent persons criticized here Tuesday at a league meeting. Among the others were Queen Elizabeth and the Queen Mother.

The American evangelist, now conducting a series of religious meetings in Scotland, told a reporter in Glasgow that he is a "devoted lover of animals."

The league meeting heard two members, Mrs. Diana Vernon and Mrs. M. Dudley Ward, criticize Graham. Mrs. Vernon said the evangelist began a broadcast this week saying: "Fishes belong to the sea, animals belong to the jungle and human beings belong to God."

OTTAWA OFFICIAL LAUDS RED ILLITERACY FIGHT

MONTREAL (BUP) — A top-ranking government official called on the free world last night to accept a Soviet "challenge" and provide a better life for the world's hungry and uneducated people.

Eugene Bussier, director of the citizenship branch of the federal citizenship and immigration department, said the Russians had reduced illiteracy to 16 per cent over a 25 or 30-year period and the western nations should do better.

While he did not suggest that the Soviet approach based on socialism should be followed by the West, he said, "It proves that fundamental education and illiteracy can be tackled successfully."

No Hereditary Harm To A-Bomb Children

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A report on the long-range effects of the atom bomb on Hiroshima disclosed Tuesday night that there have been a few cases of latent damage to survivors but no sign of unfavorable hereditary effects on their offspring.

In the hottest zone of the A-blast which devastated the Japanese city 10 years ago there were 185 pregnant women who survived to bear children. Only eight of their youngsters have shown signs of damage, said Dr. Robert H. Holmes, director of the United States atomic bomb casualty commission in Japan.

These eight children were born with heads slightly smaller than average and they had "some degree of mental retardation," Dr. Holmes told a coast-to-coast TV audience.

The changes in these children were not significant enough to indicate that there may be effects of atomic radiation appearing in future generations, Dr. Holmes said.

In 70,000 of the Hiroshima babies there were slightly fewer males than in the general run of population but this could have been due to other factors than the bomb.

Aussie Airmen Reject Proposed Phonetic Code

SYDNEY (CP) — Australia has rejected an international move to change the airmen's phonetic alphabet — "Alpha, Baker, Charlie, Dog," etc.

The Australian department of civil aviation has turned down the new alphabet because it believes it is no better than the old.

The proposed new alphabet starts off "Alfa, Bravo, Cocco, Delta." The International Civil Aviation Organization thought it would be easier for Italian, Spanish and French pilots.

The proposed new code changes the famous R for Roger "message received and understood" to Romeo.

NEW YORK (UP) — "The Greatest Show on Earth" played the North American living room circuit Tuesday night for the first time and didn't lose a spangle or an elephant.

As smoothly as it appeared on television screens over the NBC network, that's how smoothly the specially constructed program of important acts of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus was run off in Madison Square Garden for one hour before an invited audience of about 5,000.

The only unco-operative member of the cast was one medium-sized elephant that refused to join the forefoot-mount formation line with its fellows in the finale and instead stood glaring at John Ringling North in the official box as though demanding a raise in pay.

"I can't find a thing to say except that it was just wonderful," the circus owner said after it was all over.

"It couldn't have run more smoothly," said Alan Handley, director of the program, who had been working toward this supreme moment since last November.

It was really a shame that everyone couldn't have had a color TV set for this one. Myles White, who has dressed the big show for years, has really outdone himself this time in a tasteful riot of colors.

The centre ring, where the lions of Paul Fritz worked, is covered with yellow-colored wood chips. One of the end rings has a blended purple-white covering; the other has a pink covering. The track around the arena is finished in a greenish shade. The stage on which the clowns blew up the kitchen stove has a white geometric design painted on black.

The six small children in the official box along with North and John Daly—later joined by chief clowns Emmett Kelly, Otto Griebling and Felix Adler—were actors and models selected, and paid by the sponsor to lend atmosphere. They had been at the Garden for rehearsals since 1 p.m.

These "pros" were necessary to insure that there would be no untoward actions as might have been the case with children unaccustomed to the discipline of show business.

The sponsor (General Foods) is reported to have paid the circus $100,000 for the privilege. That's exclusive of time and other charges. The firm also was permitted to distribute packages of a new gelatin-type dessert to the audience.

Tonight: The season's official opening. Marilyn Monroe on a pink elephant. Sorry. No television.

IBEW Curtails Activities Of 18 for Leftist Leanings

VANCOUVER (CP) — Suspension from union activities ranging up to 15 years have been handed out to 18 electrical union workers charged with Communist activities and other offences.

Announcement of the suspensions was made Tuesday by Jack Waplington, president of local 213, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-TLC).

The suspensions bar the men from attending union meetings or acting for the union in any way. They are not expelled from the union, however, and will continue to pay dues.

The suspensions may be appealed to a Canadian international vice-president within 30 days.

He is expected to give a decision shortly in the case of business agent George Gee, charged with "aiding the Communist cause."

Know the Answers
About Goodyear
Supercushion Retreads

QUESTION: How much mileage may I expect from retreaded Goodyear tires?
ANSWER: It depends on three factors:
1. The quality of the new tire.
2. The care you have given the tire.
3. The quality of the retreading.

With the VICTORIA TIRE factory-approved system you retread a good tire body after time.

MARLON BRANDO

PHIL LEE SAYS

Marlon Brando, "Waterfront" Oscar Bets

By PHIL LEE
Times Movie Critic

This is the hottest "Oscar" race in five years. Almost any of the nominees can win. And worst of it all they are all favorites of the Times "Two for the Show" column. With one or two exceptions we don't care who or what wins.

SEE AP CHOICES ON PAGE 3

We like Marlon Brando to win the best actor award. This very talented young man won his nomination for his superb acting in "On the Waterfront." But his work over the past four years has been of such high calibre that this is the fourth time his name has appeared on the lists. The law of percentages says she should win. Others named are Bing ("The Country Girl"), Crosby, Humphrey ("The Caine Mutiny"), Bogart, James ("A Star is Born"), Mason, William ("Country Girl"), Holden, and Dan O'Herlihy for his superb "Robinson Crusoe."

DOMINATED PLAY

Of them all we are proudest of our nomination of O'Herlihy for academy award merit. "Two for the Show" was one of the few columns in all North America to do so. And it would serve us right if O'Herlihy crossed us up and won the "Oscar." Any man who can completely dominate a play for better than an hour with a supporting cast of a dog, a goat and a parrot deserves the highest accolade. We would nominate him only we think Brando deserves it more for his all-around excellent work in so many films.

Surely no one can beat Judy Garland. She is the only actress in any play this year who sang, danced, made us weep in drama and laugh in comedy. In "A Star is Born" she was a one-woman cast. She was tremendous. We would give her an Academy Award for one scene alone, the scene where she came home and described to screen-hubby James Mason all the things she had been doing at the studio that day.

It might be an omen that Miss Garland gave birth to a son Tuesday night, two days ahead of schedule. Of course she will be unable to be present for the awards tonight, thereby holding to her reputation as the "hard luck girl" of show business.

Grace Kelly is a fine actress but none of her plays this year has demanded the range from her worthy of an Academy (Continued on Page 32)

Janice White's Second Try May Have To Be Postponed

By AB KENT

Gale warnings in effect for the West Coast of Vancouver Island and adverse westerly winds in the Strait of Juan de Fuca are expected to cause a second postponement of Janice White's strait swim try slated for 4 a.m. Thursday.

"The forecast is for continued unsettled conditions, looking unfavorable for anyone attempting a strait swim," weatherman Bill Mackie said this morning.

Miss White had planned to set off at 3 a.m. today, in a 12-hour attempt to be the first person to conquer the treacherous reach of water, but cancelled arrangements to await better weather.

She still has favorable tide conditions, both from her jumping-off spot below the ninth tee at Oak Bay Golf Club and from mid-strait on to Port Angeles, her goal.

TIDES FAVORABLE

Virtually no change in the tide level from 3:50 a.m. Thursday, to 8:30 is shown in tide tables. By 8:30 the swimmer anticipates being in mid-strait and in position to be swept ahead of the racing ebb tide toward the American shore.

Tables show a six-foot drop in tide level from 8:30 a.m. to 4:12 p.m. The weather system expected to reach this area about the swimmer's starting time will give her a following wind of 15-20 miles an hour for the first half of her effort, then is expected to increase later in the morning.

The stronger wind forecast would be blowing in the swimmer's face from mid-point in the present picture.

Gale force winds were already reported farther up the coast today, the Queen Charlotte group reporting 38 miles an hour gales at 11 a.m.

This morning in this area, winds were clocked at about 12 miles an hour from the south-east. They may increase in velocity, Mr. Mackie said, which could hinder the early part of the swim if they are sustained.

READY TO GO

Janice was reported in fine shape this morning and "ready when the weather is." She got a good night's rest, said her father's private secretary from Toronto Mrs. Marjorie Hanrahan.

"We're just waiting for the weather," Harold B. Elworthy, Island Tug and Barge president said. His firm is providing tug boats and navigator Captain Charles Goodwin for the swim, flotilla.

All other arrangements remain the same, he said, but further study would be given to tide tables.

"We only looked three days ahead in the first place."

Captain Goodwin explained why this morning's attempt was called off. He said three Island Tug vessels at Port Townsend, on the northern entrance to Puget Sound, reported winds from the southeast at 25-30 miles an hour at 11 p.m. Tuesday.

"We couldn't put a girl out in that. We want to get her across."

WINDS IN FACE

Southeasterlies blowing during the early part of the planned swim would be in Miss White's face. The earlier forecast had been for light winds from the southeast.

Weatherman Mackie has been giving almost as much time to the swim as the actual swimmer, devoting all day Tuesday until midnight to obtaining the latest weather information. He will stay on duty again today.

U.K. ELECTION FORECAST FOR MAY 26

LONDON (Reuters)—The political correspondent of the British Press Association said "Opinion in the House of Commons suddenly hardened this afternoon" that a British national election will be called for May 26.

ANEURIN BEVAN

Bevan Remains Within Ranks Of Labor Party

Agrees to Observe
Standing Orders

LONDON (UP)—Left-wing Aneurin Bevan won his fight today to stay within the ranks of the British Labor party.

The party's national executive committee decided at a special meeting on his case to accept Bevan's assurances that he would not challenge the party leadership in the future.

He had been charged with rebelling against the moderate leadership of former prime minister Clement Attlee over a decision to support the use of the hydrogen bomb.

Thus, the decision of the national executive means that the fiery, 57-year-old Welshman will be retained within the party's membership.

However, for the moment, he will remain excluded from the ranks of the parliamentary labor group. The party whip was withdrawn from Bevan two weeks ago, leaving him an independent Socialist in action in the House of Commons although still technically a member of the Labor party.

Bevan submitted a written statement to the subcommittee in which he promised to observe the rules and standing orders of the party, and apologized for any remarks he made about Attlee that might have been considered objectionable.

Berlin city officials said the new highway taxes announced by the Communists raised the toll for an average heavy-truck from around $7.50 for a round trip to as much as $100.

The tolls become effective April 1, the seventh anniversary of the first Soviet steps leading to the full land blockade of Berlin in 1948.

"This situation makes it completely impossible to operate trucks to supply Berlin on a normal economic basis," a West Berlin spokesman said. "This is a cold economic blockade."

West Berlin Mayor Otto Suhr said the Communist squeeze against this isolated outpost 110 miles behind the iron curtain was part of the "expected Communist reaction to ratification of the Paris pacts" to rearm West Germany.

The Correctional Institution will be constructed about four and one-half miles outside of Haney, in the Fraser Valley. Construction is expected to take two years.

The jail will house 400 prisoners. Plans have been designed to allow for future expansion to handle another 200 inmates.

It will be a medium-security prison, with the emphasis on rehabilitation. Oakalla Prison Farm will be retained as the province's high-security institution.

G. Nicholson, chief cereals officer at the New South Wales department of agriculture, said it is feared that by the time the land is dry enough to permit cultivation weed growth will be excessive and the surface soil hard and crusted.

"Erosion losses will for some considerable time reduce the productive potential of the land," he said. "On undulating cultivation areas damage from erosion has created a major problem."

The request is contained in a resolution—co-sponsored by Britain, the United States and France—expected to win unanimous approval by the council today.

Tuesday, after lengthy consideration of a report by Burns—head of the UN truce supervision organization in Palestine—the council unanimously condemned Israel for the Gaza clash that killed 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis Feb. 28.

Burns has presented a four-point plan to end border infiltration:

1. Joint patrols along "sensitive portions" of the demarcation line established under the 1949 armistice agreement.

2. Negotiation of a local commanders' agreement to curb infiltration and punish offenders.

3. Erection of a barbed wire obstacle along parts of the line.

4. Manning of all outposts and patrols by regular Egyptian and Israeli troops.

EISENHOWER CRITICIZES WAR SCARES

Peace Not Served
By Speculations

By MERRIMAN SMITH
(United Press White House Correspondent)

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today criticized speculation about the prospect of war in the Far East.

He took this position in commenting on estimates by Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, that an attack on the island of Matsu by the Red Chinese might develop about April 15 with a following attack on Quemoy a month or so later.

The chief executive said he does not plan to rebuke Carney. But in answering a number of news conference questions he left no doubt that he challenged Carney's estimate of the situation.

The president made these points:

1. The peace of the world is not being served by speculating too much concerning such things as Red Chinese war potential in the straits of Formosa.

2. He warned against saying or doing anything in this country that would destroy the morale of the Chinese Nationalists.

3. He doubted the possibility of accurately forecasting when and what the Red Chinese will do.

He was asked directly whether he disagreed with the proposition that there might be an attack on Matsu from April 15 onward. He replied that anyone making such a prediction must have information not in his possession.

He said, however, that he could not say there would be no Red Chinese attack in April because frankly, he does not know.

General Burns' Plan Seen Gaza Solution

(From CP and UP)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The United Nations Security Council today is expected to urge Egypt and Israel to co-operate with Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada in implementing his proposals to reduce Israeli-Egyptian tension.

The request is contained in a resolution—co-sponsored by Britain, the United States and France—expected to win unanimous approval by the council today.

Vancouver Chief Asks Ottawa for Drastic Measures

Mainland Dope Racket Ring Called
'Most Highly Organized in Existence'

(CP and BUP Dispatches)

OTTAWA—Vancouver is in the grip of the most highly organized drug ring in existence, and without drastic new penalty measures the combined action of two police forces will not be able to break the ring, Chief of Police Walter Mulligan said today.

Mulligan appealed to a Senate committee on narcotics for the removal of all confirmed drug addicts "from any large centres of population." He suggested that a rehabilitation institution be segregated on an island.

"An addict is dangerous to society for he is the chief source of creating new addicts," Mulligan said.

Sensors on the committee, set up under the chairmanship of Senator Thomas Reid (L, British Columbia) to investigate Canada's illicit drug trade, applauded Chief Mulligan's submission as the most comprehensive they have yet heard.

POLICE NAB 7 DRUG SUSPECTS

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Police rounded up seven more drug suspects in three under-world raids overnight. All are being held pending analysis of hypodermic needles, spoons and glasses confiscated by police.

mission as the most comprehensive they have yet heard.

Addicts to Testify at Vancouver

The committee goes to Vancouver for a series of hearings starting April 18. Mulligan said he would arrange an interview with a number of known drug addicts.

"The narcotics situation has been steadily deteriorating in Vancouver," Mulligan told the committee today. Number of addicts was increasing by about 10 a month and peddlers were forming syndicates with "new and ingenious methods" for pushing their products.

City police and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are finding it impossible to check the creeping disease and the resulting major crime, he said. Officials have estimated the crime directly caused by the narcotics traffic at more than $10,000,000 a year.

"We are witnessing in Vancouver today an ever-increasing degree of organized crime," Mulligan said.

Two warring syndicates are striving for control of the illicit trade, he told the committee. Their war has been responsible for one murder, two attempted murders and three cases of aggravated assault in recent months, he said.

Mulligan said there was no drug problem among juveniles in Vancouver. Main juvenile problem was teen-aged gangs who stole cars and engaged in petty crime but none were known addicts.

There were 1,158 known criminal addicts in Vancouver. Each needed an average dose of four capsules of drugs a day, he said. To satisfy the craving cost $12 a day.

$500 to $600 per "piece" or ounce. The purchasing distributor adulterated the heroin and made a profit of about $1,000 an ounce in selling it to the pedlar.

The pedlar in turn again adulterated the drug and made himself a large profit. Recently, Mulligan said, a telephone order system had developed in Vancouver. Pedlars took orders by telephone and made deliveries by picking up addicts from the street by car, thus making it doubly difficult for police officers to get incriminating evidence.

Segregation of the addicts to an island large enough for a farm to provide staple foods "would render expensive security arrangements unnecessary," and could be of any type sociologists and those opposed to the idea of imprisonment and eager to attempt rehabilitation might put forward, Mulligan said.

He agreed that imprisonment of addicts was no solution to the problem.

"Our own experience most definitely shows that even after long terms of imprisonment the criminal drug addict upon his release will immediately go back on drugs," Mulligan said.

The heroin reached the illicit market in Vancouver mainly from Mexico and was shipped through Vancouver to eastern cities, Mulligan said. A small amount reached Vancouver direct from the Orient by ship and some came from the eastern Mediterranean area from Red China by way of Hong Kong.

In eastern Canada, he said, it was brought on the illicit market at prices ranging from $100 to $200 a pound.

Wallace and six other young men. Headwaiters collided with each other in their excitement. The group drank, danced and chatted from 12.15 to 3.15 a.m. around a table studded with champagne and Scotch bottles and ginger ale.

The princess was wearing a simply-cut elegant dress, and diamonds on wrist, ears, and bodice.

The princess laughed happily and never appeared in better humor. She showed no sign of emotional strain such as might have been expected if the reports are true that her romance with Group Capt. Peter Townsend is once again deeply occupying the Royal Family.

A few tables from Margaret, some young socialites were clapping their hands so close to each other's faces that a pushing situation developed. Waiters quickly moved in to prevent a battle.

Meanwhile, two other men began to swing their girlfriends by the arms and legs in time to the music, and still another man threatened a companion with a chair.

The princess languidly puffed a cigarette as she watched these incidents.

New Berlin Blockade Imposed by Russians

Supplies Hit as Highways Tolls
On Trucks Hiked From $7.50 to $100

BERLIN (UP)—The East German Communists imposed exorbitant tolls today on the highways supplying Berlin and West Berlin officials said the Reds had imposed a cold economic blockade.

Berlin city officials said the new highway taxes announced by the Communists raised the toll for an average heavy-truck from around $7.50 for a round trip to as much as $100.

The request is contained in a resolution—co-sponsored by Britain, the United States and France—expected to win unanimous approval by the council today.

Tuesday, after lengthy consideration of a report by Burns—head of the UN truce supervision organization in Palestine—the council unanimously condemned Israel for the Gaza clash that killed 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis Feb. 28.

Burns has presented a four-point plan to end border infiltration:

1. Joint patrols along "sensitive portions" of the demarcation line established under the 1949 armistice agreement.

2. Negotiation of a local commanders' agreement to curb infiltration and punish offenders.

3. Erection of a barbed wire obstacle along parts of the line.

4. Manning of all outposts and patrols by regular Egyptian and Israeli troops.

Chief Mulligan's idee is good. How about one o' them South Pacific islands that disappears every now an' then?

Churchill's Proposal Turned Down by Ike

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower politely objected to British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's suggestion that big power discussions begin with a conference of chiefs of state.

Without referring to Churchill by name, Mr. Eisenhower pointed out at his news conference that an eminent source had proposed a top-level meeting without an agenda.

Mr. Eisenhower said there would be many dangers to such a meeting. He said it might look like a social gathering to many people in the world who would be expecting more from such talks than could be delivered.

But Mr. Eisenhower said again that the United States would meet with other major powers on any basis so long as such a meeting would not raise any false hopes.

Mr. Eisenhower thus maintained his basic position of a week ago—that it would be better to hold exploratory talks at a lower level, probably foreign ministers, and then see whether a chiefs of state meeting might follow.

Churchill Tuesday proposed a directly opposite approach. He told Commons that it might be better "to have the wish and will expressed from the summit and the agreement of the heads of government recorded in broad and simple terms" and then carried out on a lower level.

U.K. ELECTION FOR MAY 26?

LONDON (Reuters)—The political correspondent of the British Press Association said "opinion in the House of Commons suddenly hardened this afternoon" that a British national election will be called for May 26.

SET FOR THURSDAY

Further Swim Delay Looms

By AB KENT

Gale warnings in effect for the West Coast of Vancouver Island and adverse westerly winds in the Strait of Juan de Fuca are expected to cause a second postponement of Janice White's strait swim try slated for 4 a.m. Thursday.

"The forecast is for continued unsettled conditions, looking unfavorable for anyone attempting a strait swim," weatherman Bill Mackie said this morning.

Miss White had planned to set off at 3 a.m., today, in a 12-hour attempt to be the first person to conquer the treacherous reach of water, but cancelled arrangements to await better weather.

She still has favorable tide conditions, both from her jumping-off spot below the ninth tee at Oak Bay Golf Club and from mid-strait on to Port Angeles, her goal.

He had been charged with rebelling against the moderate leadership of former prime minister Clement Attlee over a decision to support the use of the hydrogen bomb.

Thus, the decision of the national executive means that the fiery, 57-year-old Welshman will remain excluded from the ranks of the parliamentary labor group. The party whip was withdrawn from Bevan two weeks ago, leaving him an independent Socialist in action in the House of Commons although still technically a member of the Labor party.

Bevan submitted a written statement to the subcommittee in which he promised to observe the rules and standing orders of the party, and apologized for any remarks he made about Attlee that might have been considered objectionable.

New Berlin Blockade Imposed by Russians

Supplies Hit as Highways Tolls
On Trucks Hiked From $7.50 to $100

BERLIN (UP)—The East German Communists imposed exorbitant tolls today on the highways supplying Berlin and West Berlin officials said the Reds had imposed a cold economic blockade.

Berlin city officials said the new highway taxes announced by the Communists raised the toll for an average heavy truck from around $7.50 for a round trip to as much as $100.

The tolls become effective April 1, the seventh anniversary of the first Soviet steps leading to the full land blockade of Berlin in 1948.

"This situation makes it completely impossible to operate trucks to supply Berlin on a normal economic basis," a West Berlin spokesman said. "This is a cold economic blockade."

West Berlin Mayor Otto Suhr said the Communist squeeze against this isolated outpost 110 miles behind the iron curtain was part of the "expected Communist reaction to ratification of the Paris pacts" to rearm West Germany.

Near-Brawls Fail to Ruffle Princess on Night Club Date

LONDON (UP)—Princess Margaret was an amused and unruffled onlooker at a couple of near-brawls when she went night-clubbing early today.

The incidents took place in the exuberant Stork Room, a popular late spot much patronized by American tourists.

It is not, however, one of the glush spo's of Mayfair which usually are visited by the princess.

The princess threw the crowded Stork Room into confusion when she arrived unannounced with playboy Billy Wallace and six other young men.

Headwaiters collided with each other in their excitement. The group drank, danced and chatted from 12.15 to 3.15 a.m. around a table studded with champagne and Scotch bottles and ginger ale.

Drastic Penalties Asked To Curb Dope Racketeers

(CP and BUP Dispatches)

OTTAWA—Vancouver is in the grip of the most highly organized drug ring in existence, and without drastic new penalty measures the combined action of two police forces will not be able to break the ring, Chief of Police Walter Mulligan said today.

Mulligan appealed to a Senate committee on narcotics for the removal of all confirmed drug addicts "from any large centres of population." He suggested that a rehabilitation institution be segregated on an island.

"An addict is dangerous to society for he is the chief source of creating new addicts," Mulligan said.

Senators on the committee, set up under the chairmanship of Senator Thomas Reid (L, British Columbia) to investigate Canada's illicit drug trade, applauded Chief Mulligan's submission as the most comprehensive they have yet heard.

The committee goes to Vancouver for a series of hearings starting April 18. Mulligan said he would arrange an interview with a number of known drug addicts.

"The narcotics situation has been steadily deteriorating in Vancouver," Mulligan told the committee today. Number of addicts was increasing by about 10 a month, and peddlers were forming syndicates with "new and ingenious methods" for pushing their products.

MARLON BRANDO

... he was superb

PHIL LEE SAYS

Marlon Brando, "Waterfront" Oscar Bets

By PHIL LEE

Times Movie Critic

This is the hottest "Oscar" race in five years. Almost any of the nominees can win. And worst of it all they are all favorites of the Times "Two for the Show" column. With one or two exceptions we don't care who or what wins.

We like Marlon Brando to win the best actor award. This very talented young man won his nomination for his superb acting in "On the Waterfront." But his work over the past four years has been of such high calibre that this is the fourth time his name has appeared on the lists. The law of percentages says he should win.

Other names are Bing ("The Country Girl"), Crosby, Humphrey ("The Caine Mutiny"), Bogart, James ("A Star Is Born"), Mason, William ("Country Girl"), Holden and Dan O'Herlihy for his superb "Robinson Crusoe."

Of them all we are proudest of our nomination of O'Herlihy for academy award merit. "Two for the Show" was one of the few columns in all North America to do so. And it would serve us right if O'Herlihy crossed us up and won the "Oscar." Any man who can completely dominate a play for better than an hour with a supporting cast of a dog, a goat and a parrot deserves the highest accolade. We would nominate him only we think Brando deserves it more for his all-around excellent work in so many films.

Surely no one can beat Judy Garland. She is the only actress in any play this year who sang, danced, made us weep in drama and laugh in comedy. In "A Star Is Born" she was a woman cast. She was tremendous. We would give her an Academy Award for one scene alone, the scene where she came home and described to screen-hubby James Mason all the things she had been doing at the studio that day.
